NEW QUESTION # 67

Sales reps at Universal Containers use Salesforce on their mobile devices. They want a way to add new contacts quickly and then follow up later to complete the additional Information necessary.

What mobile solution should an App Builder recommend?

- A. Build a global action to create Contacts.
- B. Use Path and set pre-defined values
- C. Add a compact layout to Contacts.
- D. Customize the mobile menu to move Contacts to the top.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

The app builder should recommend building a global action to create Contacts. A global action allows users to create records quickly from any page in Salesforce on their mobile devices. The app builder can also specify predefined values for some fields in the global action, such as Account Name or Phone Number, to make data entry easier for users. Option A is incorrect because customizing the mobile menu to move Contacts to the top does not help users create new contacts quickly or follow up later. Option C is incorrect because adding a compact layout to Contacts does not help users create new contacts quickly or follow up later, but rather shows them more fields on record detail pages or list views. Option D is incorrect because using Path and setting pre-defined values does not help users create new contacts quickly or follow up later, but rather guides them through different stages of a record.

NEW QUESTION # 68

In order to delete Opportunities, Universal Containers would like sales reps to submit requests for approval from their sales manager.

What can be used to meet these requirements?

- A. Approval Process with Apex Trigger.
- B. Approval Process with Time-Dependent Workflow action.
- C. Process Builder with Submit for Approval Action.
- D. Two-step Approval Process.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 69

An app builder wants to create a custom object and 10 fields. What should they use to create the object, fields, and relationships quickly From one place?

- A. Developer Console
- B. Schema Builder
- C. Manage Field Permissions
- D. Lightning Object Creator

Answer: B

Explanation:

The key is to separate behavior from appearance. The best answer is A. Schema Builder. The Platform App Builder role is to choose the standard Salesforce capability that owns the behavior: data structure, access, automation, user experience, reporting, or deployment.

The selected answer is stronger because it meets both the functional requirement and the maintainability requirement. In a Salesforce implementation, a solution that only works for one user, one page, or one data sample is not good enough. The correct feature has to behave consistently across the intended profiles, record types, apps, and devices that are part of the design.

None of the other options gives the same administrative control. B (Lightning Object Creator) is only a partial match because A Lightning component changes the interface; it does not automatically solve security, relationship, or data-quality requirements. C (Manage Field Permissions) misses the mark because Permission controls are essential for access, but they do not perform calculations or process automation. D (Developer Console) is not enough: it would require extra assumptions that the scenario does not support. This is the stronger design because it respects security, data quality, user experience, and lifecycle management at the same time.

For general platform design, the strongest answer is the native feature that can be enforced, audited, and maintained through Salesforce metadata.
