Query parameters are a defined set of parameters attached to the end of a url. They are extensions of the URL that are used to helpdefine specific content or actions based on the data being passed. To append query params to the end of a URL, a '?' Is added followed immediately by a query parameter.
To add multiple parameters, an '&' is added in between each.

NEW QUESTION # 92
Which keyword do you use to create a new function in DataWeave?

- A. function
- B. func
- C. map
- D. fun

Answer: D

Explanation:
You can define your own DataWeave functionsusing the fun declaration in the header of a DataWeave script.
Sample is as below. ---------------------------------------
%dw 2.0
output application/json
fun toUpper(aString) = upper(aString)
---
toUpper("hello")

NEW QUESTION # 93
A Utility.dwl is located in a Mule project at src/main/resources/modules. The Utility.dwl file defines a function named encryptString that encrypts a String What is thecorrect DataWeave to call the encryptString function in a Transform Message component?

- A. 1. %dw 2.02. output application/json3. import modules::Utility4. ---5. Utility::encryptString("John Smith")
- B. 1. %dw 2.02. output application/json3. import modules.Utility4. ---5. Utility.encryptString("John Smith")

- C. 1. %dw 2.02. output application/json3. import modules::Utility4. ---5. encryptString("John Smith")
- D. 1. %dw 2.02. output application/json3. import modules.Utility4. ---5. encryptString("John Smith")

Answer: C

Explanation:
Correct answer is %dw 2.0
output application/json
import modules::Utility

Utility::encryptString("John Smith")
DataWeave 2.0 functions are packaged in modules. Before you begin, note that DataWeave 2.0 is for Mule 4apps. For Mule 3 apps, refer to DataWeave Operators in the Mule 3.9 documentation. For other Mule versions, you can use the version selector for the Mule Runtime table of contents.
Functions in the Core (dw::Core) module are imported automatically into your DataWeave scripts. To use other modules, you need to import the module or functions you want to use by adding the import directive to the head of your DataWeave script, for example:
import dw::core::Strings
import camelize, capitalize from dw::core::Strings import * from dw::core::Strings
The way you import a module impacts the way you need to call its functions from a DataWeave script. If the directive does not list specific functions to import or use * from to import all functions from a function module, you need to specify the module when you call the function from your script. For example, this import directive does not identify any functions to import from the String module, so it calls the pluralize function like this: Strings::pluralize("box").
Transform
%dw 2.0
import dw::core::Strings
output application/json

{ 'plural': Strings::pluralize("box") }
