Appian Certified Analyst Sample Questions (Q35-Q40):

NEW QUESTION # 35

What are the two best uses for a "Staging" or "Parallel to Prod" environment (separate from Dev, Test, and Prod environments)?

- A. Unit testing development stories
- B. Practicing complex production deployments
- C. Testing a new release for compatibility with existing Production code/settings
- D. Sprint acceptance testing

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

A "Staging" or "Parallel to Prod" environment is a crucial part of the software deployment lifecycle. It is used to mirror the Production environment as closely as possible, allowing teams to test new releases and practice deployments without affecting live users.

Testing Compatibility (B):

Staging is the ideal environment to ensure that new code releases are compatible with the existing production settings and configurations.

This helps in identifying any potential issues that could disrupt the live environment before the actual deployment.

Practicing Deployments (C):

Staging is also used to rehearse complex production deployments. This practice helps ensure that the deployment process is smooth and that all steps are properly executed without errors.

It reduces the risk of downtime or issues during the actual production deployment.

Why Not Other Options?:

A . Unit Testing Development Stories: Unit testing is typically done in the Dev or Test environments, not in Staging.

D . Sprint Acceptance Testing: This testing is generally conducted in the Test environment as part of the sprint cycle, not in Staging.

NEW QUESTION # 36

During which sprint ceremony will your team celebrate things that worked well, and identify specific actions the team may take to improve?

- A. Sprint Planning
- B. Sprint Review
- C. Retrospective Meeting
- D. Daily Stand-up

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Retrospective Meeting is the sprint ceremony where the team reflects on the past sprint. The purpose of this meeting is to celebrate things that worked well and identify areas for improvement. The team discusses what went well, what could be improved, and what actions to take in the next sprint to enhance performance.

Retrospective Meeting Overview:

The Retrospective occurs at the end of each sprint.

It is an opportunity for the team to reflect on the sprint's successes and challenges, fostering continuous improvement.

Why Not Other Options?:

A . Sprint Planning: Focuses on defining the work for the upcoming sprint, not on reflection.

B . Sprint Review: Involves demonstrating the work completed during the sprint to stakeholders, not internal reflection.

C . Daily Stand-up: A brief daily meeting to discuss progress, blockers, and plans, but not for retrospective analysis.

The Retrospective Meeting is essential for maintaining a healthy Agile process by continuously learning and adapting.

NEW QUESTION # 37

The order management team receives orders via different channels, including email. Emails are accompanied by attachments containing the details of the order information. The team reviews the emails and attachments for clarity. Then, they extract the order specifics to create a customer record in their Customer Relationship Management (CRM) platform and an order in their Order Management System (OMS).

What is the most effective form of automation to help increase fulfillment efficiency in this process?

- A. Review the emails and attachments using trained artificial intelligence to extract order data information
- B. Prompt the order management team members with a task to create an order in the CRM platform
- C. Provide a task after the order email was received asking the team to check the order status and select the next step option
- D. Have an auto-reply "Thank You" email sent back thanking the customer for sending in their order request

Answer: A

Explanation:

The most effective form of automation to increase fulfillment efficiency in this process is using trained artificial intelligence (AI) to extract order data information from the emails and attachments. AI can be trained to recognize and extract key details such as customer names, order numbers, and product information directly from the content of the emails and attachments. This automation significantly reduces the manual effort required to review and input data, thereby speeding up the order processing time and reducing the chance of errors. Appian Documentation - AI and Automation Capabilities Note: The other options (B, C, D) provide minimal automation and would still require significant manual intervention, which does not effectively enhance fulfillment efficiency.

NEW QUESTION # 38

Which one of the following Appian object combinations allows you to directly access and use data from the Appian database?

- A. A process model that uses an Export to Excel smart service
- B. An expression rule with an integration call
- C. An interface object with an integration call
- D. An expression rule with a query

Answer: D

Explanation:

In Appian, the combination of an expression rule with a query allows you to directly access and use data from the Appian database. Expression rules are used to define business logic, while queries are used to retrieve data from the database.

Expression Rule with a Query:

An expression rule can be used to execute a query against the Appian database to retrieve data.

This combination allows you to filter, sort, and manipulate the data retrieved directly from the database within your application logic.

The `a!queryEntity()` function is commonly used within an expression rule to fetch data from a specific entity in the database.

Why Not Other Options?:

A . An expression rule with an integration call: This option is used for retrieving data from external systems, not directly from the Appian database.

C . A process model that uses an Export to Excel smart service: This is used for exporting data to Excel but does not directly access the database for querying purposes.

D . An interface object with an integration call: This combination is also used for interfacing with external systems rather than directly accessing the Appian database.

Implementation in Appian:

Define an expression rule that uses `a!queryEntity()` to fetch data from a specific table or view in the Appian database.

The query can be customized with filters, sorting, and paging to retrieve the exact data needed for the application.

NEW QUESTION # 39

Consider the below use case:

A third-party system needs to push information to Appian in real-time.
The information is processed in Appian and a case ID is returned.
The third-party system displays the reference case ID on the confirmation screen.
Which integration approach is most suitable?

- A. Use an integration object
- B. Use message queues
- C. Use FTP/SFTP
- D. Use a web API-based integration

Answer: D

Explanation:

The most suitable integration approach for the given use case is web API-based integration (A). Web APIs allow real-time communication between the third-party system and Appian. The third-party system can send information to Appian through an HTTP request, which Appian processes, and then returns the case ID in the response. This real-time, synchronous interaction is ideal for scenarios where immediate feedback, like displaying a case ID on a confirmation screen, is required. Appian Documentation - Web APIs Note: The other options-FTP/SFTP (B), integration objects (C), and message queues (D)-are not as suitable for real-time, synchronous interactions. FTP/SFTP is typically used for batch processing, integration objects facilitate interactions within Appian, and message queues are better suited for asynchronous processing.
