APMG-International Agile Project Management (AgilePM) Foundation Exam Sample Questions (Q50-Q55):

NEW QUESTION # 50

When initially creating MoSCoW priorities, what is the primary focus?

- A. Timebox priorities
- B. Iterative Development priorities
- C. Project increment priorities
- D. Project priorities

Answer: A

Explanation:

When initially creating MoSCoW priorities in AgilePM, the primary focus is on Timebox priorities. This approach ensures that each Timebox (a fixed period during which specific tasks must be completed) has clear and prioritized objectives. The MoSCoW method (Must have, Should have, Could have, Won't have this time) helps the team to deliver the most critical features within the given timeframe, thereby optimizing the value delivered in each iteration. This prioritization ensures that essential functionalities are completed first, making the project adaptable and resilient to changes.

NEW QUESTION # 51

Which information is given in the Solution Architecture Definition?

- A. A snapshot of the evolving business, solution and management products
- B. The tools and standards to be used in Evolutionary Development
- C. A high-level design framework for the solution.
- D. The strategy for testing

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 52

During what DSDM phase is it established how quality to be assured?

- A. At the start of Evolutionary Development
- B. As part of Foundations
- C. During each timebox during Evolutionary Development
- D. During Feasibility

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 53

Which of the following statements about the MoSCoW rules for the ratio of prioritized Requirements are true?

The minimum Usable Subset must not exceed 60% of the total number of requirement. It is recommended that around 20% of available effort should be allocated to Could requirements.

- A. Only 2 is true
- B. Both 1 and 2 are true
- C. Only 1 is true
- D. Neither 1 or 2 true

Answer: A

Explanation:

AgilePM's MoSCoW guidance sets effort-based guardrails, not simple counts of requirements. A common rule of thumb is: Must Haves \leq ~60% of available effort, Should Haves \leq ~20%, and Could Haves \leq ~20%, with Won't Haves excluded from the current delivery timeframe. This ensures sufficient contingency (mainly in Coulds) to absorb change while protecting time, cost, and quality. Statement 2 aligns with that guidance: allocating around 20% of the available effort to Could requirements provides the "give" needed inside timeboxes and releases. Statement 1 is misstated: it refers to the number of requirements and equates the Minimum Usable Subset with a percentage of items; AgilePM speaks in terms of effort, not item count. Hence, only statement 2 is true.

NEW QUESTION # 54

Which statement applies to the DSDM process?

- A. Provides an approach that can be used for all projects without change
- B. DSDM projects can deliver the phases in the DSDM process in any order
- C. Does not require the elaboration of supporting products for complex projects
- D. Can be configured and calibrated to cater for light or strong governance

Answer: D
