NEW QUESTION # 32

Refer to the exhibit.

Which type of antenna do the radiation patterns present?

- A. Omnidirectional
- B. Yagi
- C. Patch
- D. Dipole

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

A patch antenna, in its simplest form, is just a single rectangular (or circular) conductive plate that is spaced above a ground plane.

Patch antennas are attractive due to their low profile and ease of fabrication.

The azimuth and elevation plane patterns are derived by simply slicing through the 3D radiation pattern. In this case, the azimuth plane pattern is obtained by slicing through the x-z plane, and the elevation plane pattern is formed by slicing through the y-z plane. Note that there is one main lobe that is radiated out from the front of the antenna. There are three back lobes in the elevation plane (in this case), the strongest of which happens to be 180 degrees behind the peak of the main lobe, establishing the front-to-back ratio at about 14 dB. That is, the gain of the antenna 180 degrees behind the peak is 14 dB lower than the peak gain.

Again, it doesn't matter if these patterns are shown pointing up, down, to the left or to the right. That is usually an artifact of the measurement system. answer 'Patch' patch antenna radiates its energy out from the front of the antenna. That will establish the true direction of the patterns.
