Public Edition Sample Questions (Q19-Q24):

NEW QUESTION # 19
You are using the Test Automation Tool. When do you define a data variant?

- A. After providing consent for Post-Upgrade Testing.
- B. After binding a process step field to a Test Data Container.
- C. After creating a test plan.
- D. After customizing a test process.

Answer: D

Explanation:
A data variant is a set of data values that can be used to execute a test process in the Test Automation Tool.
You can define multiple data variants for a test process to test different scenarios with different input data. You can also use data variants to parameterize your test process and reuse it for different test cases1.
You define a data variant after binding a process step field to a Test Data Container. A Test Data Container is a reusable object that stores test data for a specific field or parameter. You can create and manage Test Data Containers in the Manage Test Data app.
You can bind a process step field to a Test Data Container by selecting the field in the Test Automation Tool and choosing the Test Data Container from the list. This will create a link between the field and the Test Data Container, allowing you to use the data stored in the Test Data Container for the field2.
After binding a process step field to a Test Data Container, you can define a data variant by selecting the Test Data Container and choosing the Data Variant option. This will open a dialog where you can enter the data values for the data variant. You can also specify a name and a description for the data variant. You can create as many data variants as you need for a Test Data Container2.
Therefore, the correct answer is B, as you define a data variant after binding a process step field to a Test Data Container.
References = 1 Test Automation Tool - SAP Help Portal 2 Test Data Containers - SAP Help Portal In the context of using the Test Automation Tool within SAP S/4HANA Cloud Public Edition, defining a data variant is a crucial step. This step occurs:
* After binding a process step field to a Test Data Container: A Test Data Container (TDC) is used to store data that can be reused across multiple test cases. When a field in a process step is bound to a TDC, it means that the test case will use the data specified within the TDC. After this binding, a data variant can be defined to specify different sets of data or conditions under which the test case should be executed. This allows for more flexible and comprehensive testing scenarios, ensuring that the application behaves as expected under various conditions.

NEW QUESTION # 22

Which type of testing should be done after a release upgrade has occurred?

- A. Integration tests
- B. User Acceptance tests
- C. String tests
- D. Regression tests

Answer: D

Explanation:
Regression tests are a type of testing that should be done after a release upgrade has occurred. Regression tests are performed to ensure that the existing functionality of the system is not affected by the changes introduced by the new release. Regression tests help to identify any defects or errors that may have been introduced or uncovered by the release upgrade. Regression tests are part of the quality assurance process and are essential for ensuring the stability and reliability of the system.
