Scrum Professional Scrum Master I Sample Questions (Q34-Q39):

NEW QUESTION # 34

What enhances the transparency of an increment?

- A. Updating Sprint tasks properly in the electronic tracking tool.
- B. Keeping track of and estimating all undone work to be completed in a separate Sprint.
- C. Doing all work needed to meet the definition of "Done"
- D. Reporting Sprint progress to the stakeholders daily

Answer: C

Explanation:

he correct answer is A, because doing all work needed to meet the definition of "Done" enhances the transparency of an increment.

The Scrum Guide states that "when a Product Backlog item or an Increment is described as 'Done', everyone must understand what 'Done' means." Therefore, by meeting the definition of "Done", an increment becomes transparent to all stakeholders and ready for release.

NEW QUESTION # 35

Scrum is a methodology that tells in detail how to build software incrementally.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 36

When do Development Team members take ownership of a Sprint Backlog item?

- A. During the Daily Scrum.
- B. Never. All Sprint Backlog Items are "owned" by the entire Development Team, even though each one may be done by an individual Development Team member.
- C. At the Sprint planning meeting.
- D. Whenever a team member can accommodate more work.

Answer: B

Explanation:

According to the Scrum Guide 1 , the Sprint Backlog is the property of the Developers and no one else can tell them which items they should work on. The Developers can select any item from the Product Backlog that they forecast they can complete within a Sprint. The Developers are self-organizing and decide how to turn Product Backlog items into an Increment of value. Therefore, no one owns a Sprint Backlog item, but the entire Development Team is accountable for it.
