GInI Certified Innovation Professional (CInP) Sample Questions (Q38-Q43):

NEW QUESTION # 38

In order to manage the different stakeholders to a given Innovation Project, the Project Leader must figure out what each stakeholder's motivations are, and how to thereby leverage those to achieve, overall, what needs to be accomplished.

Select one correct answer from the list:

- A. Thoughts

- B. Motivations
- C. Breaking points
- D. Favorite things

Answer: B

Explanation:

GInI's CInP Handbook emphasizes stakeholder management as a key Project Leader skill, requiring insight into "motivations"-the underlying drivers (e.g., career goals, resource needs) that influence stakeholder support or resistance. By understanding and leveraging these, the leader aligns diverse interests to "achieve what needs to be accomplished" (project goals). "Thoughts" (A) is vague, lacking actionable depth. "Favorite things" (C) is trivial and irrelevant. "Breaking points" (D) focuses on limits, not drivers. Option B aligns with GInI's guidance, matching the original answer, reflecting a strategic, psychology-informed approach to leadership-a GInI tactic for navigating complexity and ensuring project momentum through stakeholder buy-in. Reference: GInI CInP Handbook, Section on Project Leadership and Stakeholder Management.

NEW QUESTION # 39

In order to gain insights from the research we undertake and the observations we make, we have to distill down all of that information to figure out what the information is trying to tell us.

Select one correct answer from the list:

- A. Figure out what the information is trying to tell us
- B. Determine what other information we need
- C. Figure out why the pieces of information do not match one another
- D. Have far less information

Answer: A

Explanation:

GInI's CInP Handbook emphasizes that research and observation in the Front End (e.g., needfinding) generate raw data that must be distilled to extract meaning-"figure out what the information is trying to tell us." This involves synthesizing patterns, needs, or opportunities, a core skill for innovators to translate data into actionable insights. Option B, "why pieces don't match," focuses on discrepancies, not the broader goal. Option C, "have far less information," misinterprets distillation as reduction, not understanding. Option D, "what other information we need," is a follow-up, not the primary aim. Option A aligns with GInI's insight-driven approach, matching the original answer, reflecting a Design Thinking-inspired process where meaning precedes action, critical for effective innovation.

NEW QUESTION # 40

Subject Matter Expert Platforms are a lighter approach to Open Innovation where engagements are curated with SMEs, thus allowing a business to gain access to a wide variety of insights and learn critical information about a particular industry, market, technology, or business process.

Select one correct answer from the list:

- A. Crowdsourcing Platforms
- B. Subject Matter Expert Platforms
- C. Cross-Industry Lateral Innovation Panels
- D. Open Innovation Brokerage Platforms

Answer: B

Explanation:

In the context of Open Innovation, GInI's Certified Innovation Professional (CInP) Handbook describes "Subject Matter Expert Platforms" as a streamlined method for businesses to tap into specialized knowledge from subject matter experts (SMEs). These platforms facilitate curated engagements that provide deep insights into specific areas like industry trends, markets, technologies, or processes, without the broader scope of full-scale crowdsourcing or cross-industry collaboration. The question's phrasing-"a lighter approach" and "curated with SMEs"-directly aligns with this definition. Option B, "Crowdsourcing Platforms," involves a wider, less targeted pool of contributors, which is less "light" and curated. Option C, "Open Innovation Brokerage Platforms," implies intermediaries facilitating broader innovation deals, not necessarily SME-focused. Option D, "Cross-Industry Lateral Innovation Panels," involves peer-to-peer collaboration across industries, not SME engagements. GInI's emphasis on SME-driven insights for targeted learning makes A the correct choice. The original answer (A) was correct and is affirmed here with GInI backing.

NEW QUESTION # 41

In Technology Scouting, scouts must focus on what the technology is, how it works, and how it has been used to date and from that conceive new ways their business can use the technology, which can be a departure from how it has been used elsewhere in the past.

Select one correct answer from the list:

- A. What the technology is, how it works, and how it has been used to date
- B. The least expensive way to adapt the technology
- C. How cool the technology looks and how well it will impress their customers
- D. Whether or not they think their competitors will ever use this technology

Answer: A

Explanation:

GInI's CInP Handbook defines Technology Scouting as a Hard Research activity where scouts analyze "what the technology is" (its nature), "how it works" (its mechanics), and "how it has been used to date" (its applications) to imagine novel uses for their business. This foundational understanding enables creative adaptation, potentially diverging from prior uses-e.g., repurposing a material tech for a new industry. Option A, "competitors' use," is speculative and secondary. Option B, "how cool it looks," prioritizes flash over substance, against GInI's rigor. Option C, "least expensive way," focuses on cost, not innovation potential.

Option D matches GInI's process, aligning with the original answer, reflecting a systematic, forward-thinking approach to technology-driven innovation-a strategic lever for differentiation.

NEW QUESTION # 42

Problem Reframing forces us to "start at the beginning" by exploring hypotheses.

Select one correct answer from the list:

- A. Prototyping new ideas
- B. Stating Design Principles
- C. Brainstorming solutions
- D. Exploring hypotheses

Answer: D

Explanation:

GInI's Certified Innovation Professional (CInP) Handbook positions Problem Reframing as a critical technique within Design Thinking and the Front End of Innovation, aimed at redefining challenges to uncover root causes or new perspectives. The phrase "start at the beginning" aligns with GInI's emphasis on questioning assumptions and forming testable "hypotheses" about the problem space-e.g., "Is this the real issue?" or "What if the need is different?" This exploratory step, often part of the Define phase, ensures the team addresses the right problem before proceeding. Option A, "Stating Design Principles," is a later structuring act, not reframing's starting point. Option B, "Brainstorming solutions," jumps to ideation, skipping reframing's diagnostic focus. Option D, "Prototyping new ideas," is a testing phase, not the initial reframing. Option C matches GInI's methodology, aligning with the original answer, reflecting a disciplined, hypothesis-driven approach that resets the innovation process with clarity-a foundational GInI principle for avoiding misaligned efforts.
