The Certified Information Systems Security Professional (CISSP) certification is awarded by the International Information System Security Certification Consortium, or ISC<sup>2</sup>, a non-profit organization that aims to provide education and certification programs for information security professionals. The ISC CISSP certification is considered a benchmark for excellence in the field of information security and is highly sought after by employers around the world.

The CISSP Exam consists of 250 multiple-choice questions that must be completed in six hours. The questions are designed to test the candidate's knowledge and understanding of the ten domains covered in the exam. Candidates who pass the exam are awarded the CISSP certification, which is valid for three years. To maintain the certification, individuals must earn Continuing Professional Education (CPE) credits and pay an annual maintenance fee.
