Scaled Agile SAFe Release Train Engineer Sample Questions (Q90-Q95):

NEW QUESTION # 90

Which of the following is true of Iteration Goals in SAFe?

- A. They provide KPIs for tracking progress and value realization
- B. They describe the value of planned Features and Enablers
- C. They enable teams to keep aligned with PI objectives
- D. They provide quantifiable metrics to be used in retrospectives

Answer: C

Explanation:

Iteration Goals in SAFe are a high-level summary of the business and technical goals that an Agile Team agrees to accomplish in an Iteration. They are essential for coordinating an Agile Release Train (ART) as a self-organizing, self-managing team of teams. The primary benefits of Iteration Goals include aligning team members to a common purpose and aligning teams to common PI Objectives while managing dependencies. They provide Agile Teams, ART stakeholders, and management with a shared language for maintaining alignment, managing dependencies, and making necessary adjustments during the execution of the Planning Interval. These goals apply to teams whether they use SAFe Scrum, SAFe Team Kanban, or a hybrid of both. By setting Iteration Goals, teams can ensure that they are working towards the same objectives and can adjust their efforts as needed to stay on track with the overall goals of the ART1.

NEW QUESTION # 91

Who provides Agile Release Train context and Vision during PI Planning?

- A. Product Management
- B. Product Owner
- C. Release Train Engineer
- D. Business Owner

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 92

Becoming a coach requires a shift from old behaviors to new ones. What are three ex-amples of old behaviors?

(Choose three.)

- A. Fixing problems for the team
- B. Asking the team for the answers
- C. Focusing on deadlines
- D. Driving toward specific outcomes
- E. Focusing on business value delivery
- F. Facilitating team problem solving

Answer: A,C,D

Explanation:

In the context of SAFe, becoming a coach involves a shift from traditional management behaviors to those that support and enable Agile and Lean practices. The old behaviors that a coach needs to move away from include:

* Focusing on deadlines (A): Traditional management often emphasizes strict adherence to deadlines, which can lead to a focus on output rather than outcome and value.

* Fixing problems for the team (B): This behavior undermines the team's ability to self-organize and solve problems on their own, which is a key aspect of Agile teams.

* Driving toward specific outcomes : While having goals is important, a coach should encourage teams to explore various paths to achieve outcomes, fostering innovation and adaptability rather than prescribing specific solutions.

These behaviors contrast with new behaviors expected of a SAFe coach, such as facilitating team problem-solving (E) and focusing on business value delivery (F), which align with Agile principles of empowerment and customer-centricity<sup>1</sup>.

NEW QUESTION # 93

Which of the following is true of Iteration Goals in SAFe?

- A. They provide KPIs for tracking progress and value realization
- B. They describe the value of planned Features and Enablers
- C. They enable teams to keep aligned with PI objectives
- D. They provide quantifiable metrics to be used in retrospectives

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 94

Why is the innovation pillar of the House of Lean important to SAFe?

- A. It provides the shortest sustainable lead time
- B. It ensures delivery of valuable products
- C. It avoids the start-stop-start of project delays
- D. It is the foundation of the House of Lean

Answer: B

Explanation:

The innovation pillar of the House of Lean is crucial because it emphasizes the importance of maintaining a steady flow of innovative ideas and solutions, which are vital for the delivery of valuable products. In the context of SAFe, innovation is not just about new products but also about improving processes, tools, and ways of working that lead to better outcomes. The House of Lean's focus on innovation aligns with the SAFe principle of delivering value continuously. By fostering an innovative culture, SAFe ensures that the solutions developed are not only viable but also sustainable and valuable to customers and stakeholders<sup>123</sup>.
