NEW QUESTION # 54

Credential vault stores sensitive information for which Dynatrace capabilities?

- A. Synthetic HTTP monitors
- B. Synthetic Browser monitors
- C. Dynatrace API
- D. Dynatrace Apps
- E. Dynatrace Extensions v2

Answer: A,B,E

Explanation:

The Credential Vault in Dynatrace is used to securely store sensitive data such as usernames, passwords, and tokens for capabilities that require authentication.

It is used by:

- * Synthetic Browser monitors for login simulations and scripted interactions
- * Synthetic HTTP monitors for authenticated API testing
- * Dynatrace Extensions v2 for connecting to external systems that require credentials Other options are not applicable:
- * Dynatrace API uses tokens but not stored via Credential Vault in this context
- * Dynatrace Apps do not rely on Credential Vault for authentication storage This ensures secure handling of credentials without exposing them in plain text.

NEW QUESTION # 55

Which Dynatrace capability can be used to query ingested log data?

- A. USQL
- B. JavaScript
- C. DQL
- D. SQL

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 56

I want to view versioning metadata of the components I monitor in Dynatrace. Which options do I have for configuring this data? (Select all that apply)

- A. Security vulnerability
- B. Smartscape
- C. Kubernetes labels
- D. Events ingestion
- E. Environment variables

Answer: C,D,E

Explanation:

Dynatrace allows adding versioning and metadata to monitored entities through multiple configurable inputs:

Events ingestion can be used to push deployment and version information into Dynatrace, which is then associated with entities

Kubernetes labels allow attaching version metadata (such as app version or build number) to workloads and pods

Environment variables can be used to define version information that OneAgent automatically captures and associates with services or processes

Smartscape is a visualization tool and does not configure metadata.

Security vulnerability relates to application security findings, not version metadata configuration.

NEW QUESTION # 57

Given a scenario where you have a service with a problem of a high failure rate, which service page should be the first one to check?

- A. Failure Analysis
- B. Distributed Traces

- D. Response Time Hotspots

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Failure Analysis page is the primary view for investigating high failure rates.

It provides:

- * Breakdown of errors
- * Failure patterns
- * Root cause indicators

This makes it the first place to investigate when failures increase.

- C. When all of the elements visible to the user on a webpage are 100% loaded and rendered
