Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 126

Which of the following outputs of a privacy audit is MOST likely to trigger remedial action?

- A. Areas of focus for privacy training
- B. Identification of uses of sensitive personal data
- C. Recommendations to optimize current privacy policy
- D. Deficiencies in how personal data is shared with third parties

Answer: D

Explanation:

A privacy audit is a systematic and independent examination of an organization's privacy policies, procedures, practices, and controls to assess their compliance with applicable laws, regulations, standards, and best practices. A privacy audit may result in various outputs, such as findings, recommendations, observations, or opinions. Among the options given, the output that is most likely to trigger remedial action is the identification of deficiencies in how personal data is shared with third parties. This is because such deficiencies may pose significant risks to the privacy and security of the data subjects, as well as to the reputation and legal liability of the organization. Remedial action may include implementing contractual safeguards, technical measures, or organizational changes to ensure that third parties respect and protect the personal data they receive from the organization.

NEW QUESTION # 127

Which of the following technologies BEST facilitates protection of personal data?

- A. Data profiling tools

- B. Data loss prevention (DLP) tools
- C. Data log file monitoring tools
- D. Data discovery and mapping tools

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

Data loss prevention (DLP) tools are technologies that help to prevent unauthorized access, use, or transfer of personal data. DLP tools can monitor, detect, and block data leakage or exfiltration from various sources, such as endpoints, networks, cloud services, or email. DLP tools can also enforce data protection policies and compliance requirements, such as encryption, masking, or deletion of sensitive data. DLP tools can help to protect personal data from both internal and external threats, such as malicious insiders, hackers, or accidental exposure.
