ACAMS Certified Global Sanctions Specialist Sample Questions (Q20-Q25):

NEW QUESTION # 20

The EU-Iran Instrument in Support of Trade Exchange (INSTEX), which allowed EU purchases of Iranian oil after 2018, is an example of:

- A. a special purpose vehicle.
- B. a general license.
- C. a blocking statute.
- D. sanctions evasion.

Answer: A

Explanation:

INSTEX was established by EU member states as an operational mechanism designed to facilitate limited and compliant trade with Iran after the re-imposition of U.S. secondary sanctions in 2018. According to the Sanctions and Compliance Domains, INSTEX is categorized as a special purpose vehicle, created specifically to permit trade transactions without reliance on traditional cross-border payment routes exposed to U.S. sanctions risk.

Special purpose vehicles are defined within sanctions frameworks as structured entities created to conduct or support specific categories of trade or payments where direct financial transfers are restricted or exposed to sanctions risk. INSTEX was designed to match European exporters and importers with Iranian counterparts through a barter-style internal clearing arrangement, avoiding external USD payment flows.

It is not a general license, nor is it a blocking statute. It also does not constitute sanctions evasion because it was formally established, publicly announced, and structured within EU legal parameters. Its purpose was to ensure compliance while maintaining limited humanitarian and permitted trade channels.

Reference from Sanctions and Compliance Domains:

Definitions and characteristics of special purpose vehicles in sanctions environments.

Description of EU mechanisms facilitating compliant trade with sanctioned jurisdictions.

Distinction between SPVs, blocking statutes, and licensing frameworks.

Regulatory context regarding INSTEX as an EU-created structured trade mechanism.

NEW QUESTION # 21

What do we learn from the Vulnerability Analysis?

- A. Women are at greater risk of malnutrition
- B. Loss count
- C. Discrimination between ethnic groups
- D. Young children are at greater risk because they require nutrients for their natural growth
- E. Different types of sanctions

Answer: A,D

NEW QUESTION # 22

Which are the primary sources of information for a sanctions investigation? (Select Two.)

- A. Social media publications
- B. Transaction activity review

- C. Government blocked persons and export restriction lists
- D. News headlines
- E. Internal bank correspondence

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Sanctions investigations rely primarily on the factual evidence contained in transaction activity and on authoritative, government-issued sanctions lists. Transaction details provide information on counterparties, payment paths, goods, and purpose. Official blocked-person lists such as OFAC, EU, UN, and national export-control lists provide the authoritative basis for sanctions matching. News, social media, and internal correspondence may supplement context but are not primary sources.

Reference:

Transaction activity as primary investigative data.

Mandatory reliance on official sanctions and export-restriction lists.

NEW QUESTION # 23

Which is a key sanctions risk posed by transshipment and intermediary points?

- A. The submission of all relevant documentation prior to the transshipment.
- B. The collection of data on exposure to intermediary points.
- C. The large cash amounts readily exchanged at ports.
- D. The ultimate recipient of goods and/or their jurisdiction may be unclear.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Transshipment and intermediary hubs present sanctions risks because they obscure the true origin, destination, and end-user of goods. High-risk jurisdictions use intermediary shipping points to bypass controls, hide diversion routes, and disguise connections to sanctioned countries or entities.

Documentation may be incomplete, manipulated, or replaced during transshipment, making the true jurisdiction unclear-the core risk.

Reference:

Sanctions evasion via transshipment and intermediary locations.

Risks relating to concealment of end-users and destinations.

NEW QUESTION # 24
