Salesforce Certified B2C Commerce Architect Sample Questions (Q56-Q61):

NEW QUESTION # 56

During a load test the storefront shows steady but slow performance on all the paces being tested. The Architect opens Pipeline Profiler and sorts the data by "total time" column. The following come as the top Ave items:

Which controller should the Architect focus on to further investigate the performance issue?

- A. Home-IncludeHeaderMenu as It has highest average time.
- B. Search Show as this Is one of the key controllers that the customer uses

- C. Product-HitTile asit has the highest hits during the load test.
- D. Product-Detail as It has the highest total time and highest maximum time.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Focusing on the 'Product-Detail' controller is prudent given that it has the highest total time and the highest maximum time (Answer C), suggesting that it significantly contributes to the overall load and potential slowdowns on the site. By analyzing and optimizing this controller, the architect can potentially achieve the most substantial improvement in performance. Efforts might include optimizing database queries, caching frequently requested data, or simplifying complex logic in the Product-Detail page's processing.

NEW QUESTION # 57

A B2C Commerce developer has recently completed a tax service link cartridge integration into a new SHU site. During review, the Architect notices the basket calculation hook is being run multiple times during a single tax call. What is the reason for the duplicate calculations being run?

- A. The tax cat is being called multiple times.
- B. Thecheckout is designed to recursively refer to the same hook.
- C. There are multiple hook.js Wes referring to the same hook.
- D. The LINK cartridge Is Included multiple times in the cartridge path.

Answer: C

Explanation:

If multiple hook.js files are referring to the same basket calculation hook within a LINK cartridge integration, it could lead to the hook being executed multiple times during a single tax call. This often occurs due to redundancy in the integration, where multiple scripts are set to trigger the same function, inadvertently causing duplicate calculations. It's essential to ensure that only one script is responsible for invoking specific hooks to prevent this kind of redundancy and inefficiency in the system.

NEW QUESTION # 58

A company that is a shoe-producer is doing Salesforce B2C Commerce implementation. In their Enterprise Resource Warning (ERP) system, the products are marked as being one of three types: boots, sandals, and sneakers. The business requirements based on the type are:

- * The messaging on Product Detail page is different
- * Customers are able to filter their Product Search Results

The customer's operations team asks about the format in which to send this value in the catalog.

Which data type should the Architect specify for this attribute In the Data Mapping document?

- A. A custom attribute of type string containing comma separated values.
- B. A custom attribute of type enum-of-string (single selectable value)
- C. A custom attribute of type enum-of-string (multiselect able value).
- D. A custom attribute type set-of-string containing multiple values.

Answer: B

Explanation:

For the shoe producer implementing Salesforce B2C Commerce, the attribute used to specify the type of shoes (boots, sandals, sneakers) should be set as a single selectable value, hence the use of an enum-of-string type. This data type allows for the selection of one option from a predefined list, which is ideal for cases where each product can only be categorized into one type. This ensures that data integrity is maintained while providing clear and distinct categorization that can easily be used for filtering on the Product Search Results page and for customized messaging on the Product Detail page.

NEW QUESTION # 59

An ecommerce site has dynamic shipping cost calculation. it allows the customers to see their potential shipping costs on the Product Detail Page before adding an item to the cart.

For this feature, shipping touts are calculated using the following logic:

- * Set the shipping method on the Basket
- * Add the item to the basket, calculate the basket total and get the shipping cost for this method

* Remove the item from the Basket to restore the original state

* The above process is repeated for each shipping method

During the testing it was discovered that the above code violates the `spi.basket.addResolveInSameRequest` quota.

What should the Architect do to resolve this issue and maintain the business requirement?

- A. Wrap each Individual step of the process its own transaction Instead of using one transaction for all steps.
- B. Wrap the adding of product and shipping cost calculation in a transaction which Is then rolled back to restore the original state
- C. Omit the calculation of shipping cost until the customer is ready to check out and has chosen the shipping method they want to
- D. Omit the removal of the Item and speed up the process for the customer by adding the product to the basket for them.

Answer: B

Explanation:

To resolve the issue of violating the `spi.basket.addResolveInSameRequest` quota and to maintain the functionality of dynamically calculating shipping costs for items before they are added to the basket, the best approach is:

* Option D: Wrapping the adding of product and shipping cost calculation in a transaction, which is then rolled back to restore the original state. This method ensures that the system can calculate potential shipping costs without permanently altering the state of the basket. This approach keeps the basket's original state intact while allowing for multiple shipping calculations, effectively managing the load on system resources and adhering to platform quotas.

NEW QUESTION # 60

During the testing of the login form, QA finds out that the first time the user can log in, but every other login attempt from another computer leads to the homepage and the basket being emptied. Developers tried to debug the issue, but when they add a breakpoint to the login action, it is not hit by the debugger.

What should the Architect recommend developers to check?

- A. Check Login Form and any included templates for includes that enable page caching.
- B. Add disable cache page in the template ISML - `<is:cache status="off"/>`.
- C. Remove CSRF protection from Login Form Action.
- D. Add remote include for the login page

Answer: A

Explanation:

When QA encounters issues with login persistence across multiple computers, where subsequent logins lead to a redirection and an emptied basket, the likely culprit could be unintended caching of login-related pages or processes. In Salesforce B2C Commerce, certain cache settings might inadvertently cause user sessions to be shared or not properly invalidated. The recommendation D, to check the login form and related templates for caching directives that might be erroneously caching login actions or user-specific data, addresses this potential issue. Developers should ensure that pages handling user sessions and authentication are configured to disable caching, thus preventing session data from being mistakenly retained or shared across different users.
