Adobe Experience Manager Architect Master Sample Questions (Q83-Q88):

NEW QUESTION # 83

A client wants to change how they publish their content. Refer to the following client business requirements:

- * The client has a seasonal business that has significant content changes across their site that need to be rolled out at once based on the season change over date.
 - * The content authors need to be able to work one season in advance of publish dates to ensure that all changes can be completed on time.
 - * The content authors need a way to indicate that all the seasonal changes are ready. If the content changes are not completed, then the pages should not get published.
 - * The content authors need the ability to modify the current live pages without rolling back changes for a future content rollout.
- What approach should the Architect recommend?

- A. Use Launches inside of AEM for each new season and use the production ready flag to show changes are completed.
- B. Use the Manage Publication with scheduling value set to the season change over date when changes are completed.
- C. Create a Project inside of AEM for each new season and create a task for notifying that changes are completed.
- D. Use the Versioning feature when editing a page to toggle and publish changes when ready.

Answer: A

Explanation:

"using Launches inside of AEM for each new season can allow content authors to work on future content changes without affecting the current live pages and use the production ready flag to indicate when changes are completed".

NEW QUESTION # 84

Refer to the exhibit.

A customer with an existing AEM implementation wants to enrich product pages with technical data coming from their PIM system. The PIM system sits behind an API Management solution that publicly exposes the PIM API's as RESTful web services with basic authentication as the security mechanism. Data consistency with the PIM and secure access to the APIs are key elements of the integration.

How should the Architect set up the integration between AEM and the PIM?

- A. Use a client-side integration with AJAX from the browser to the API Management
- B. Import the technical data into the AEM Author and replicate to Publishers
- C. Convert the technical data to Content Fragments and expose using Content Services
- D. Integrate the AEM Publishers directly with the API Management solution

Answer: D

Explanation:

Integrate the AEM Publishers directly with the API Management solution . According to Adobe Experience Manager documentation¹, a direct integration between AEM and PIM can enable marketers and creative professionals to manage eCommerce-related product data and photography within AEM. A direct integration can also ensure data consistency with the PIM and secure access to the APIs using basic authentication²³.

Option A is the only diagram that shows how AEM Publishers can directly communicate with the API Management solution.

NEW QUESTION # 85

During the implementation of a public-facing website based on AEM as a Cloud Service, the customer raises an additional requirement to have a commenting functionality for end users implemented on the pages.

What should the Architect do to make the design a future proof solution?

- A. Use MongoDB as provided with AEM as a Cloud Service to store the comments
- B. Save comments in JCR and leverage Sling Distribution to synchronize comments between publishers
- C. Save comments in JCR and leverage reverse replication to synchronize comments via author
- D. Integrate a third-party solution to store comments externally

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 86

An AEM architect is trying to configure a dispatcher rule to serve the page from AEM publisher when 'myparam' query string parameter is present in the page URL, otherwise, serve the page from the dispatcher cache.

Page Link: <https://mywebsite.com/mypage.html?cid=true&myparam=true>

Which configuration would the architect use?

- A. Option B
- B. Option A
- C. Option C
- D. Option D

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 87

A website built on AEM as a Cloud Service (AEMaaS) leverages browser caching of JavaScript and CSS files to optimize page load times. After the caching is enabled, QA testers notice that newly delivered components are lacking newly developed features and are missing styling, even hours after their deployment.

Further analysis identifies outdated CSS and JavaScript files in the browser cache as the root cause.

What steps would an AEM architect take first to fix this issue?

- A. Add max-age=300 and must-revalidate Cache-Control headers to JavaScript and CSS files in the dispatcher configuration
- B. Append a user-specific unique ID query parameter to each JavaScript and CSS call as a cache-bust mechanism
- C. Check whether the clientlib paths are included in the dispatcher invalidation section of the Cloud Manager Deployment pipeline
- D. Check the Adobe Granite HTML Library Manager OSGi configuration to see if the timestamp appending option is enabled

Answer: D
