Oracle Fusion Cloud Applications SCM Foundations Associate - Rel 1 Sample Questions (Q30-Q35):

NEW QUESTION # 30

Which feature in Oracle Fusion Cloud SCM tracks and manages real-time production processes?

- A. Cost Accounting
- B. Supplier Qualification
- C. Inventory Management
- D. Manufacturing Execution.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Manufacturing Execution (C) in Oracle Fusion Cloud SCM tracks and manages real-time production processes on the shop floor, capturing data like work order progress, material usage, and labor hours. For example, if a worker completes 100 units, the system logs the time, resources consumed (e.g., 50 kg of steel), and any delays (e.g., machine downtime), providing live visibility. Option A (Supplier Qualification) evaluates suppliers, not production. Option B (Cost Accounting) analyzes costs post-production, not real-time processes. Option D (Inventory Management) tracks stock, not manufacturing activities. This feature ensures production aligns with schedules, identifies bottlenecks instantly, and feeds data into cost and quality systems, enhancing operational control.

NEW QUESTION # 31

What is the primary function of the Available to Promise (ATP) process in Oracle Fusion Cloud SCM?

- A. It ensures product availability commitments based on inventory and supply constraints.
- B. It guarantees immediate shipment for all orders.
- C. It eliminates the need for demand forecasting.
- D. It manages only supplier payments without impacting inventory levels.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Available to Promise (ATP) process (A) in Oracle Fusion Cloud SCM calculates the quantity of products available to commit to new customer orders by analyzing current inventory levels and supply constraints, such as production capacity, supplier lead times, and existing order commitments. For example, if a warehouse has 200 units of a product with 50 already promised, ATP indicates 150 units are available, ensuring accurate delivery promises. This real-time calculation prevents overpromising and aligns customer expectations with operational reality. Option B is incorrect-ATP does not guarantee immediate shipment but provides feasible timelines based on availability, not an unrealistic universal promise. Option C is false-demand forecasting complements ATP by informing supply planning; it doesn't eliminate it. Option D is irrelevant-supplier payments are managed by financial modules, not ATP, which focuses on inventory and supply. By ensuring reliable commitments, ATP enhances customer satisfaction, reduces order cancellations, and optimizes resource use across the supply chain.

NEW QUESTION # 32

What role does the Inventory Management function play in Oracle Fusion Cloud SCM?

- A. It focuses on reducing supplier costs instead of stock levels.
- B. It manages only supplier shipments, not warehouse stock.
- C. It ensures optimal inventory levels by tracking stock movement and availability.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Inventory Management in Oracle Fusion Cloud SCM ensures optimal inventory levels by tracking stock movement, availability, and replenishment needs across warehouses and supply chains. It monitors quantities on hand, in transit, and on order, using real-time data to prevent overstocking or stockouts. For instance, if a product's stock drops below a reorder point, the system triggers a replenishment alert. Option A is incorrect-reducing supplier costs is a procurement goal, not Inventory Management's focus, which is stock optimization. Option B is wrong as it manages warehouse stock, not just supplier shipments. This function balances inventory costs with service levels, supporting efficient operations and customer satisfaction by ensuring products are available when needed without tying up excess capital.

NEW QUESTION # 33

What is the role of the Global Order Promising feature in Oracle Fusion Cloud SCM?

- A. It guarantees same-day delivery for all orders.
- B. It focuses only on local inventory availability.
- C. It provides real-time order commitment dates based on supply and demand constraints.
- D. It eliminates the need for supplier collaboration.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Global Order Promising (C) provides real-time order commitment dates by analyzing supply (e.g., inventory, production) and demand (e.g., orders, forecasts) constraints enterprise-wide. For instance, if 100 units are requested and 70 are available with a 3-day lead time, it commits to 3 days. Option A is false-no universal same-day guarantee exists. Option B is incorrect-supplier data often informs promises. Option D is wrong-it considers global, not just local, availability. This feature ensures reliable promises, reduces cancellations, and aligns customer expectations with operational capacity.

NEW QUESTION # 34

Which feature in Oracle Fusion Cloud Procurement automates the creation of purchase orders from contracts?

- A. Receipt Accounting
- B. Supplier Portal
- C. Contract Fulfillment Automation.
- D. Intelligent Document Recognition (IDR).

Answer: C

Explanation:

Contract Fulfillment Automation (C) in Oracle Fusion Cloud Procurement automates the creation of purchase orders (POs) directly from contract terms, streamlining the procurement process. This feature uses predefined contract details-such as items, quantities, pricing, and delivery schedules-to generate POs without manual intervention. For example, if a contract stipulates 1,000 units of a product at $10 each over six months, Contract Fulfillment Automation triggers POs as needed (e.g., 200 units monthly), ensuring accuracy and compliance with the agreement. Option A (Receipt Accounting) records goods received, not PO creation. Option B (Supplier Portal) enables supplier interaction but doesn't automate PO generation from contracts. Option D (IDR) extracts data from documents like invoices, not contracts for PO creation. This automation reduces errors (e.g., mismatched quantities), saves time, and ensures procurement aligns with negotiated terms, enhancing efficiency and supplier relationships.
