70. Frage

Charlie is 13 years old and sometimes helps his parents in their corner shop on weekends, while attending school during the week. Is this an example of child labour?

- A. No - Charlie is old enough not to be a child
- B. Yes - any work by under 16s is child labour
- C. No - helping in a family business does not count as child labour
- D. Yes - Charlie should report his parents to the police

Antwort: C

Begründung:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract of Documents:

The ILO defines child labour as work that deprives children of their childhood, education, or well-being. According to the L5M5 study guide (p.252), light work, such as assisting in a family business outside school hours, is not considered child labour if it does not interfere with education or harm physical and mental health. Charlie is attending school, completing homework, and only helping part-time in a family-owned shop. Therefore, this is not classified as child labour. The ILO guidelines make clear distinctions between exploitative labour (such as sweatshops or hazardous industries) and permissible family assistance.

71. Frage

Vincent is a Procurement Manager in France. His company is considering joining the EU's EMAS system (Eco-Management and Audit Scheme). Which of the following are advantages of doing this? Select THREE

- A. It will increase profits
- B. It focuses the organisation on improving environmental performance
- C. It will benefit the company's reputation
- D. There is no cost to set up
- E. It allows the organisation to prove compliance with environmental legislation

Antwort: B,C,E

Begründung:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract of Documents:

The Eco-Management and Audit Scheme (EMAS) is a voluntary EU framework that supports organisations in improving environmental performance. The L5M5 study guide (p.279) explains that EMAS helps organisations by:

Focusing on continuous environmental performance improvement (A),

Allowing proof of compliance with environmental legislation (C),
Enhancing reputation and stakeholder trust (D).

However, it does not guarantee increased profits (B), and there are costs for audits and registration (E). EMAS can give organisations a competitive advantage by demonstrating environmental responsibility. For procurement, it helps in supplier evaluation, especially within the EU.

72. Frage

A construction company contracts a supplier to deliver steel beams for a project, with the contract specifying that "time is of the essence," requiring delivery by January 31. However, due to unexpected delays, the supplier delivers the beams on February 5, causing project delays and financial losses for the construction company.

What is the most likely consequence of the supplier missing the deadline when "time is of the essence" is a contractual condition?

- A. The buyer must renegotiate the contract terms to account for the delay
- B. The buyer can terminate the contract and seek damages for losses incurred
- C. The buyer is required to accept the late delivery without penalty
- D. The supplier is entitled to an extension of the delivery deadline

Antwort: B

Begründung:

Choice B- When "time is of the essence" is a condition in a contract, meeting the specified timeline is a critical obligation. A failure to meet the deadline constitutes a breach of contract, allowing the aggrieved party (the buyer) to terminate the contract and claim damages for any resulting losses. The other options are inconsistent with the legal consequences of this type of clause.

Incorrect answer:

Choice A- When "time is of the essence" is a condition, delivery by the specified date is critical. If the supplier fails to meet the deadline, the buyer is not obligated to accept the late delivery. Instead, they have the right to terminate the contract and potentially seek damages. Accepting late delivery would only occur if the buyer explicitly waives the "time is of the essence" clause.

Choice C- "Time is of the essence" leaves no room for flexibility in meeting deadlines unless the contract explicitly allows for extensions (e.g., due to force majeure or renegotiated terms). In this case, the supplier's delays, unless excused by the contract, result in a breach.

Choice D- The buyer is not obligated to renegotiate the contract when "time is of the essence" is breached. They have the legal right to terminate the contract and pursue remedies, including damages. Renegotiation would only occur if both parties voluntarily agree to modify the terms.

73. Frage

Which organisation is responsible for the creation of the 2030 Sustainable Development Agenda?

- A. ILO
- B. ISO
- C. UN
- D. NATO

Antwort: C

Begründung:

This is the UN. There are 17 sustainability goals and these are listed on p.3. For the exam it's a good idea to familiarise yourself with them, but there's no need to learn them all off-by-heart.

74. Frage

All of the following are advantages of low-cost country sourcing EXCEPT which one?

- A. Access to new and better process technologies
- B. Lower wage rates allow lower manufacturing costs
- C. A wider array of potential suppliers are available

- D. Intellectual property is easily protected

Antwort: D

Begründung:

Choice B - LCCS carries the risk of engaging with unethical suppliers, raising concerns about the protection of intellectual property. Consequently, this serves as the answer.

Incorrect answer:

Choice A - This is an advantage of LCCS as LCCS opens up opportunities to engage potential suppliers globally.

Choice C - Companies use LCCS to find more affordable raw materials, labor and manufacturing thereby increasing profits.

Choice D- When considering the profitability of LCCS, a procurement professional will consider the development in technologies have made it easier for their business to communicate with and source from suppliers in low cost countries. This means business can source more affordable products.
