Adobe Workfront Project Manager Certified Professional Sample Questions (Q41-Q46):

NEW QUESTION # 41

Taking into consideration any applied task constraints, a project manager needs to know the date that a task is likely to be finished based upon the current progress of the task and its predecessors. Which date type should the project manager utilize?

- A. Estimated Date
- B. Planned Date
- C. Projected Date

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Projected Date in Adobe Workfront is dynamically calculated based on the progress of the task, any task constraints, and its dependencies. This date provides a more accurate reflection of when a task is likely to be completed, considering the current progress and any updates to predecessor tasks. On the other hand, the Planned Date refers to the originally scheduled completion date, and the Estimated Date is not manually entered but inferred from system calculations.

NEW QUESTION # 42

What are two ways to associate milestone steps to tasks? (Choose two.)

- A. In-line editing a task list on a project
- B. In the settings area of a task
- C. From the Milestone View in the Projects area
- D. Through bulk-editing multiple tasks

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

Milestones in Adobe Workfront allow project managers to mark significant phases in a project. There are two primary methods for associating milestone steps to tasks:

In-line editing a task list on a project: This method allows you to quickly assign milestones while editing the task list. It's a convenient option when working directly within a project's task list, ensuring you can associate tasks with milestone steps in a streamlined way without navigating away from the list view.

From the Milestone View in the Projects area: The Milestone View is specifically designed to help manage milestones. It allows you to view and organize milestones and their associated tasks in one place, making it easy to connect tasks to milestones without manually editing individual tasks.

These methods are integral for tracking progress and ensuring that tasks align with the significant steps of a project.

NEW QUESTION # 43

A task was originally planned with a 10-day duration and 40 planned hours. The client needs it done in 3 days. What task setting needs to change to allow 4 users to complete this in less than 3 days?

- A. Change the Task Duration Type to Calculated Work
- B. Change the Task Duration Type to Effort Driven
- C. Change the Task Constraint to Fixed Dates
- D. Change the Task Constraint to As Soon As Possible

Answer: A

Explanation:

When reducing the task duration and distributing the work among multiple users, changing the Task Duration Type to "Calculated Work" allows Workfront to automatically adjust the duration based on the number of assignees (in this case, 4 users). This will enable the task to be completed within the new shorter timeframe without adjusting the total planned hours.

NEW QUESTION # 44

What parent object can have child objects?

- A. Project
- B. Issue
- C. Portfolio

Answer: C

Explanation:

In Workfront, a "Portfolio" is a parent object that can contain multiple programs and projects. Each Portfolio can have a hierarchy of child objects such as programs, which further break down into projects. A project, while it contains tasks and issues, is considered a child within the larger hierarchy of a portfolio. Issues, on the other hand, are typically linked to tasks or projects but are not used as parent objects. This hierarchy enables Workfront users to organize and manage their work across various levels.

NEW QUESTION # 45

A creative team accesses their assigned work in a My Tasks list report. The team would like to easily see any New tasks highlighted for visibility. How can the project manager accommodate the team's request?

- A. Create a grouping for task Progress Status and use a custom color pie chart for visibility.
- B. Create a Filter that uses conditional formatting to display New tasks only.
- C. Schedule a daily automatic report delivery of the New tasks in the report to the team.
- D. Create a View that uses Column Rules to format the New tasks for visibility.

Answer: D

Explanation:

To meet the team's request for highlighting new tasks, the most effective solution is to create a View that uses Column Rules. These rules allow for conditional formatting based on task criteria, such as highlighting new tasks in a specific color for easy identification. This approach enhances visibility without requiring the creation of filters or new reports, and it makes it easier for users to see relevant tasks within their existing task lists.
