NEW QUESTION # 23

What is the potential consequence of enabling multiple rulesets that apply to the same branch in a repository?

- A. Only organization-level rulesets are enforced over repository-level ones
- B. All applicable rulesets will be evaluated, and their combined rules enforced
- C. Rulesets will override each other, leading to unpredictable behavior
- D. Only the most recently created ruleset will be enforced

Answer: B

Explanation:

If you enable multiple rulesets that target the same branch, GitHub will evaluate every matching ruleset and enforce the aggregate of their rules - so all constraints from all applicable rulesets apply.

NEW QUESTION # 24

What is the first step when sensitive data is accidentally pushed to a public GitHub repository?

- A. Delete the repository
- B. Revoke any exposed credentials immediately
- C. Force push a commit removing the data
- D. Open an issue to inform users

Answer: B

Explanation:

Revoke and/or rotate the exposed credentials immediately so they can no longer be used - this is the critical first step before you undertake any history-rewriting or cleanup.

NEW QUESTION # 25

Why would someone choose to configure a security policy?

- A. To prevent anyone from pushing to the repository without approval.
- B. To provide information on an open source repository for open source collaborators and researchers that may need to report and disclose sensitive security findings to maintainers securely.
- C. To communicate corporate security and compliance policies for end users on a private repository.
- D. To define which open source packages are permitted for use as part of that repository.

Answer: B

Explanation:

A security policy (the SECURITY.md file) lets maintainers of an open source repository provide clear, private instructions for collaborators and external researchers on how to report and disclose security vulnerabilities responsibly.

NEW QUESTION # 26

You are an administrator and need to enforce a policy on forking private and internal repositories. Which options are available for configuring the policy at the enterprise level? (Each answer presents a complete solution. Choose three.)

- A. Disallow repository owners from administering the setting at the repository level.
- B. Allow specific people or teams to fork private and internal repositories.
- C. Allow people who have access to private and internal repositories to fork these repositories.
- D. Allow organization owners to administer the setting at the organization level.
- E. Disallow forking of private and internal repositories.

Answer: C,D,E

Explanation:

You can configure the enterprise policy to allow organization owners to administer the forking setting at the organization level, giving them control over how repos fork within their orgs.

You can choose to allow any user who already has access to a private or internal repo to fork it.

You can also set the policy to never allow forking of private or internal repositories across all organizations.

NEW QUESTION # 27

- A. Allows custom pattern definitions for internal secret formats.
- B. Revokes GitHub access tokens automatically.

- C. Rewrites history to remove secrets.
