By passing the SC-300 certification exam, IT professionals demonstrate their expertise in implementing and managing identity and access management solutions in Microsoft environments. Microsoft Identity and Access Administrator certification validates their skills in configuring and managing Azure AD, designing and implementing identity and access solutions, and providing secure access to applications and resources.

Microsoft Identity and Access Administrator is an essential role in any organization that utilizes Microsoft technologies for their identity and access management needs. Microsoft has recently introduced the Microsoft SC-300 certification exam, which is designed to test the skills and knowledge of professionals in this field. Microsoft Identity and Access Administrator certification exam is intended for individuals who are responsible for managing and securing identity and access solutions in Microsoft Azure, hybrid, and on-premises environments.

To prepare for the Microsoft SC-300 Certification Exam, candidates should have a strong understanding of Microsoft Azure and Microsoft 365 technologies, as well as experience designing and implementing identity solutions. Microsoft recommends that candidates have at least two years of experience in implementing identity solutions, including experience with Azure Active Directory, Microsoft 365 Identity Management, and Microsoft Identity Manager. Candidates should also have experience with security and compliance requirements, as well as knowledge of industry standards and best practices for identity and access management.

NEW QUESTION # 268

You have an Azure AD tenant that contains the users shown in the following table.

□ The tenant has the authentication methods shown in the following table.

□ Which users will sign in to cloud apps by matching a number shown in the app with a number shown on their phone?

- A. User1 and User2 only
- B. User2 only
- C. User1 only
- D. User3 only
- E. User2 and User3 only

Answer: C

Explanation:

According to Microsoft's SC-300: Microsoft Identity and Access Administrator Study Guide and Exam Ref SC-300, the behavior of the sign-in process depends on which authentication methods are enabled for the user or their group. Azure AD supports multiple strong authentication methods, such as Microsoft Authenticator app, FIDO2, and SMS, which can be targeted to specific user groups.

The question specifies that the tenant's configuration enables the following methods:

* FIDO2 # Group2 (Yes)

* Microsoft Authenticator app # Group1 (Yes)

* SMS # Group3 (Yes)

And user membership is:

* User1 # Group1

* User2 # Group2

* User3 # Group3

The key phrase in the question is:

"Sign in to cloud apps by matching a number shown in the app with a number shown on their phone." This specific sign-in experience refers to the number matching feature in the Microsoft Authenticator app.

* Number matching is a security enhancement in Azure AD MFA that requires the user to confirm a sign-in by matching a number displayed on the sign-in screen with the number shown in their Microsoft Authenticator app notification.

* According to Microsoft Learn:

"When using the Microsoft Authenticator app for MFA, users will be prompted to enter or match a number displayed on the screen. This feature strengthens authentication by preventing accidental approvals." Therefore:

* Only User1, who is a member of Group1 (the group enabled for Microsoft Authenticator app), will experience number matching when signing in.

* User2 uses FIDO2, which employs a hardware key or biometric verification - not number matching.

* User3 uses SMS, which involves a one-time passcode (OTP) - again, not number matching.

Hence, only User1 will sign in to cloud apps using number matching.

NEW QUESTION # 269

Your network contains an Active Directory forest named contoso.com that is linked to an Azure Active Directory (Azure AD) tenant named contoso.com by using Azure AD Connect.

Attire AD Connect is installed on a server named Server 1.

You deploy a new server named Server2 that runs Windows Server 2019.

You need to implement a failover server for Azure AD Connect. The solution must minimize how long it takes to fail over if Server1 fails.

Which three actions should you perform in sequence? To answer, move the appropriate actions from the list of actions to the answer area and arrange them in the correct order.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

According to the Microsoft SC-300 Study Guide and Microsoft Learn module "Implement Azure AD Connect for Hybrid Identity", to ensure high availability and quick failover for Azure AD Connect, the recommended method is to deploy a second Azure AD Connect server in staging mode.

Here's how it works step by step:

* Install Azure AD Connect on Server2 Begin by installing Azure AD Connect on the secondary server (Server2) while keeping the primary server (Server1) active. This ensures the configuration and synchronization schema match between both servers.

* Configure Server2 in Staging Mode During installation, enable Staging Mode. In this mode, Server2 imports data from on-premises Active Directory and Azure AD but does not export or synchronize changes. It maintains a fully up-to-date synchronization database, ready to take over if the primary server fails. Microsoft Documentation states:

"When staging mode is enabled, Azure AD Connect performs imports and synchronizations but disables exports. This keeps the staging server up to date without affecting production."

* Run Export for all connectors on Server1 Ensure Server1 (the active Azure AD Connect server) completes all export operations to keep Azure AD and on-premises AD fully synchronized. This step ensures no pending changes are lost before failover.

Failover process:

If Server1 fails, simply disable staging mode on Server2 (which makes it active) - failover occurs immediately with minimal downtime since synchronization data is already current.
