Cisco Implementing Cisco Application Centric Infrastructure Sample Questions (Q365-Q370):

NEW QUESTION # 365

Which IP address pool must be reachable across the backbone from the physical pod to the remote leaf?

- A. seed pod tunnel endpoint pool
- B. seed pod external tunnel endpoint pool
- C. remote leaf tunnel endpoint pool
- D. remote leaf external tunnel endpoint pool

Answer: D

Explanation:

The remote leaf external TEP pool must be reachable across the backbone so the physical pod can form VXLAN tunnels with the remote leaf. This pool is used for inter-pod/inter-site connectivity and must be routable end-to-end.

NEW QUESTION # 366

- A. Traffic is dynamically redirected to the firewall that owns the connection.
- B. Deployment occurs in transparent mode.
- C. The connection state is unsynchronized.
- D. This mode causes the traffic to flow asymmetrically.
- E. Deployment occurs in go-to mode only.

Answer: A,E

NEW QUESTION # 367

- B. Grant tenant-ext-admin access to a user who performs an upgrade
- C. Combine all switches into an upgrade group.
- D. Grant the fabric administrator role to a user who performs an upgrade.
- E. Divide Cisco APIC controllers into two or more maintenance groups.

Answer: A,D

NEW QUESTION # 368

A VM called App_1 belongs to VLAN 10. VM App_2 belongs to VLAN 20. Pool_1 contains VLAN 10 and Pool_2 contains VLAN 20. Currently, AP_1 is located on Server 1. The Cisco ACI fabric has these configurations:

- The two physical domains are called Phys_1 and Phys_2.
- The two VLAN pools are called Pool_1 and Pool_2.
- The two AAEPs are called AAEP_1 and AAEP_2.

An engineer must replace App_1 with App_2. Which action under the VPC interface policy group accomplishes this goal?

- A. Assign Pool_2.
- B. Map VM App_2.

- C. Attach AAEP_2.
- D. Configure Phys_2.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 369

Virtual Machine Manager Domain Main Components

ACI fabric virtual machine manager (VMM) domains enable an administrator to configure connectivity policies for virtual machine controllers. The essential components of an ACI VMM domain policy include the following:

- Virtual Machine Manager Domain Profile—Groups VM controllers with similar networking policy requirements. For example, VM controllers can share VLAN pools and application endpoint groups (EPGs). The APIC communicates with the controller to publish network configurations such as port groups that are then applied to the virtual workloads. The VMM domain profile includes the following essential components:
 - Credential—Associates a valid VM controller user credential with an APIC VMM domain.
 - Controller—Specifies how to connect to a VM controller that is part of a policy enforcement domain. For example, the controller specifies the connection to a VMware vCenter that is part a VMM domain.

 Note A single VMM domain can contain multiple instances of VM controllers, but they must be from the same vendor (for example, from VMware or from Microsoft).

- EPG Association—Endpoint groups regulate connectivity and visibility among the endpoints within the scope of the VMM domain policy. VMM domain EPGs behave as follows:
 - The APIC pushes these EPGs as port groups into the VM controller.
 - An EPG can span multiple VMM domains, and a VMM domain can contain multiple EPGs.
- Attachable Entity Profile Association—Associates a VMM domain with the physical network infrastructure. An attachable entity profile (AEP) is a network interface template that enables deploying VM controller policies on a large set of leaf switch ports. An AEP specifies which switches and ports are available, and how they are configured.
- VLAN Pool Association—A VLAN pool specifies the VLAN IDs or ranges used for VLAN encapsulation that the VMM domain consumes.
