NEW QUESTION # 19

A Platform Engineer is deploying an NKP cluster within an air-gapped AWS environment.

However, after an infrastructure planning session with the network team, it's been determined that the default CIDR block range that is used by pods on NKP clusters is already in use in their environment. How can the engineer ensure there are no collisions between NKP pod traffic and the existing network using that subnet range?

- A. Create the NKP cluster's manifest using the `nkp create cluster` command set and include the pod CIDR block range parameter when generating the cluster manifest. Deploy the NKP cluster manifest.
- B. Create an NKP infrastructure provider for AWS in the NKP UI. Select the Advanced Options button from the Network section of the Create Cluster page and specify a unique CIDR block range within the pod network field.
- C. Because the environment is air-gapped, there will be no network traffic collision concerns and no adjustment needs to be made to the pod network CIDR block range.
- D. Create an NKP infrastructure provider for AWS in the NKP UI. When deploying the NKP cluster through the UI, specify a unique CIDR block range for the pod network field in the Network section of the Create Cluster page.

Which first step should the engineer take to achieve this task?

```
Refer to the exhibit.
[nutanix@nkp-boot ~]$ nkp get nodepool production -n kommander-default-workspace
