NEW QUESTION # 172

You want to create a duplicate database DUP_DB from your production database PROD on the same host. The PROD database uses Automatic Storage Management (ASM) for storage.

Regular backups are taken using RMAN connected to a recovery catalog. You create an auxiliary instance and want to execute the command:

RMAN> DUPLICATE TARGET DATABASE TO dup_db FROM ACTIVE DATABASE;

What is a prerequisite for the successful execution of this command?

- A. RMAN must be connected to the target database instance and the auxiliary instance.
- B. The target database must be in MOUNT state.
- C. Flashback must be enabled for the PROD database.
- D. A most recent backup set of the PROD database must exist.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 173

Which two are true about changing the LOCAL_UNDO_ENABLED property to false in a CDB? (Choose two.)

- A. Undo tablespaces existing in PDBs must be dropped before the change.
- B. After the change, each existing PDB has to be reopened for the new undo mode to take effect.
- C. After the change, any user with the required privilege can create an undo tablespace in the PDBs.
- D. After the change, only one undo tablespace can exist in CDB$ROOT.
- E. Any new PDB and existing PDBs are automatically configured to use the default undo tablespace in CDB$ROOT.
- F. After the change, only a common user with the required privilege can create an undo tablespace in CDB$ROOT.

Answer: D,E

Explanation:

Explanation

You can set a CDB in local UNDO mode either at CDB creation or by altering the CDB property. When the database property LOCAL_UNDO_ENABLE is FALSE, which is the default, there is only one UNDO tablespace that is created in the CDB root, and that is shared by all containers. When LOCAL_UNDO_ENABLE is TRUE, every container in the CDB uses local undo and each PDB must have its own local UNDO tablespace. To maintain ease of management and provisioning, UNDO tablespace creation happens automatically and does not require any action from the user. When a PDB is opened and an UNDO tablespace is not available, its automatically created.
