NEW QUESTION # 197
Under what condition can a dataset be edited in UiPath AI Center?

- A. If it has not been modified within the last 24 hours.
- B. If it is not linked to any data labeling session.

- C. If it is not being used in any active pipeline.
- D. There are no restrictions in editing a dataset.

Answer: C

Explanation:
According to the UiPath documentation, a dataset is a folder of storage containing arbitrary sub-folders and files that allows machine learning models in your project to access new data points. You can edit a dataset's name, description, or content from the Datasets > [Dataset Name] page, by clicking Edit dataset. However, you can only edit a dataset if it is not currently being used in an active pipeline. A pipeline is a sequence of steps that defines how to train, test, and deploy a machine learning model. If a dataset is being used in an active pipeline, you will see a lock icon next to it, indicating that it cannot be edited. You can either wait for the pipeline to finish or stop it before editing the dataset.

- D. The Document Understanding Process contains the activities that can be used in a Library, while the Document Understanding Framework is the template that can be found in Studio.

Answer: C

Explanation:
According to the UiPath documentation portal1, the Document Understanding Process is a fully functional UiPath Studio project template based on a document processing flowchart. It provides logging, exception handling, retry mechanisms, and all the methods that should be used in aDocument Understanding workflow, out of the box. The Document Understanding Process is preconfigured with a series of basic document types in a taxonomy, a classifier configured to distinguish between these classes, and extractors to showcase how to use the Data Extraction capabilities of the framework. It is meant to be used as a best practice example that can be adapted to your needs while displaying how to configure each of its components1. The Document Understanding Framework, on the other hand, is a set of activities that can be used to build custom document processing workflows. The framework facilitates the processing of incoming files, from file digitization to extracted data validation, all in an open, extensible, and versatile environment. The framework enables you to combine different approaches to extract information from multiple document types. The framework consists of several components, such as Taxonomy, Digitization, Classification, Data Extraction, Data Validation, and Data Consumption2. Therefore, option D is the correct answer, as it describes the difference between the Document Understanding Process and the Document Understanding Framework.
