What are two ways to improve the performance?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Define a team that will analyze/approve all changes.
- B. Define and follow code standards.
- C. Sprint review process.
- D. Version control system to identify who is generating the bugs.

Answer: B,C

NEW QUESTION # 83

Universal Containers (UC) has a recruiting application using Metadata API version 35, and deployed it in production last year. The current Salesforce platform is running on API version 36. A new field has been introduced on the object Apex page in API version 36. A UC developer has developed a new Apex page that contains the new field and is trying to deploy the page using the previous deployment script that uses API version 35. What will happen during the deployment?

- A. The deployment script will fail because the platform doesn't support the previous API version 35.
- B. The deployment script will fail because the new field is not known for the previous API version 35.
- C. The deployment script will pass because the new field is supported on the current platform version.
- D. The deployment script will pass because the new field is backward compatible with the previous API version 35.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 84

Universal Containers (UC) is embarked on a large Salesforce transformation journey, UC's DevOps team raised a question about tracking Salesforce metadata throughout the development lifecycle across sandboxes all the way to production.

As the deployment architect of the project, what should be the recommendation to track which version of each feature in different environments?

- A. Use ChangeSet to track deployed customizations.
- B. Use Salesforce SFDX commands to deploy to different sandboxes.
- C. Use an AppExchange or third-party tool that is specialized in Salesforce deployment.
- D. Use an Excel sheet to track deployment steps and document the SFDX commands.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 85

Universal Containers (UC) is working on a project to support environmental cleanup projects with specially designed containers. To support this project, UC is developing a portal for regulatory agencies to use for tracking and reporting of the containers, and these regulatory requirements are well-defined. Many non-regulatory requirements have not been defined yet. The project is on a strict budget and timeline. Which two approaches should UC consider to meet regulatory requirements and to satisfy the needs of end users? Choose 2 answers

- A. Initiate a waterfall project by gathering the remaining requirements and completing the architecture and design. Initiate the build/test processes with frequent reviews by the stakeholders. On build completion, perform acceptance testing and validate compliance with regulatory requirements
- B. Initiate a waterfall project and start building the features of the solution based on regulatory requirements. In parallel, gather the remaining non-regulatory requirements for the solution, then go back and reconcile the two sets of requirements and re-work the solution as necessary

- C. Initiate an Agile project, beginning with a "sprint 0" to scope and estimate the project and to build the product backlog. Identify the minimum viable product. Initiate building the solution based on the backlog, and co-create the design with the project stakeholders
- D. Initiate an Agile project based on the known requirements, begin building immediately, and work through remaining requirements as they come up. Budget and timeline will not be a factor with an Agile methodology

Answer: A,B
