NEW QUESTION # 61

When creating integrations in Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC), a visual mapper enables you to map element nodes between applications by dragging source element nodes onto target element nodes.

Which statement is NOT true about the OIC Data Mapper functionality?

- A. The data structure for the target service is always displayed on the right side in the Designer view.
- B. All transformation mappings use eXtensible Stylesheet Language (XSL).
- C. In the Designer view, the Sources section contains data structures of all available data objects, which includes integration metadata, tracking variables, global variables, and integration property values.
- D. When you navigate to the mapper and select a target element, Expression Builder launches in a user-friendly mode by default.
- E. All Source and Target data objects are represented internally as JSON structures.

Answer: E

Explanation:

Not all Source and Target data objects are represented as JSON structures in OIC; XML and other data formats are also supported. The rest of the statements are true regarding the OIC data mapper functionality.

NEW QUESTION # 62

- B. An application pattern integration can contain one or more trigger (source) connections for requests sent to OIC and one or more invoke (target) connections for requests sent from OIC.
- C. OIC Lookups are based on a static definition, meaning you create and populate them during design time.
- D. Using the connectivity agent, you can create hybrid integrations and exchange messages between applications in private or on-premises networks and OIC.

Answer: B

A company has been using Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) to integrate its business applications, such as Oracle HCM Cloud, Oracle ERP Cloud, and Salesforce. However, they are planning to migrate some of their integration workloads from their current OIC instance to a new instance in a different region to comply with data sovereignty regulations. Which statement is true regarding the exporting and importing of integrations?

- A. To change an integration identifier or version, you can manually edit the exported integration (IAR) file before importing it into another instance.
- B. You can export an integration either as a separate file (IAR) or bundled in a package (PAR) and it will still contain the connection resources.
- C. You cannot import an integration if it already exists with the same identifier and version.
- D. You can import a package containing activated integrations.

Answer: C

Explanation:
Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:
Migration involves exporting and importing:
Option A:False-manually editing IAR files is not supported; identifiers and versions are managed within OIC.

Option B:True-OIC prevents importing an integration if an identical identifier and version exist in the target instance to avoid conflicts.
Option C:Partially true-IAR or PAR files include connection metadata, but not sensitive data (e.g., credentials), and "still contain" is vague; B is clearer.
Option D:False-imported integrations (even in packages) are inactive by default and require activation post- import.
B ensures uniqueness and integrity during migration.
