Salesforce Certified Sharing and Visibility Architect Sample Questions (Q31-Q36):

NEW QUESTION # 31

The Architect notices that there are many duplicate Account records and numerous sharing rules created in Salesforce. What would be the reason?

- A. The Object permissions for the Account object are Create, Read, and Edit.
- B. The Organization-Wide Default for the Account object is Private.
- C. The Organization-Wide Default for the Account object is Public Read/Write.
- D. The Organization-Wide Default for the Account object is Public Read-Only.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 32

Universal Containers has Controlled by Parent sharing settings on the Contact object and Public Read Only sharing settings on Account, Opportunity, and Case objects. Which two options can the user see while adding Account team members to the Account?

- A. Contact Access
- B. Opportunity Access
- C. Activity Access
- D. Case Access

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

Explanation

Two options that the user can see while adding account team members to the account are case access and opportunity access. This is because these are the two objects that have public read only sharing settings and allow users to specify different levels of access for account team members. Contact access and activity access are not options because these objects have controlled by parent sharing settings and inherit their access from the account

NEW QUESTION # 33

Universal Containers (UC) has a custom Apex class that enforces a business process and updates opportunity field-level security permissions of read only certain user's profiles are being updated by their class.

How should the architect fix this problem?

- A. Use the IsUpdateable() Apex method to test each field prior to allowing updates.
- B. Put the code in a class that uses the With Sharing keyword.
- C. Add With Sharing keyword to the class.
- D. Use the With SECURITYT_ENFORCED keyword in the SOQL statement.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 34

Universal Containers (UC) would like to store an encryption key within Salesforce for use in Apex code, but it does not want users to be able to see this confidential key. Users require the view setup permission.

How can UC securely store the confidential key?

- A. Create a custom metadata type that stores the encryption key. Make sure that only the admin profile has access to the custom metadata type so that end users cannot access the encryption key.
- B. Create a protected custom metadata type that stores the encryption key. Package the protected custom metadata type with its associated records in an unlocked package. Install the package in the production org.
- C. Create a protected custom metadata type that stores the encryption key. Package the protected custom metadata type with its associated records in a managed package. Install the package in the production org.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Protected custom metadata types in managed packages provide a secure way to store sensitive information like encryption keys. When packaged as part of a managed package, the metadata records are shielded from access by users, even those with View Setup and Configuration permissions.

* Option A: Custom metadata types without protection do not secure the key from users with View Setup permission.

* Option B: Unlocked packages do not provide the same level of protection as managed packages.

* Option C (Correct): A protected custom metadata type in a managed package ensures the encryption key is securely stored and cannot be accessed by users.
