UiPath Automation Business Analyst Associate Exam (2023.10) Sample Questions (Q33-Q38):

NEW QUESTION # 33
What is the primary responsibility of an Infrastructure Engineer in the UiPath Automation Implementation Methodology?

- A. Managing User Acceptance Testing
- B. Creating the Process Design Document
- C. Developing automation workflows in Studio
- D. Supporting infrastructure-related issues and integrating the UiPath Platform

Answer: D

Explanation:
An Infrastructure Engineer plays a critical role in UiPath automation implementations, especially during the Kickoff stage. Their primary responsibility is to support all infrastructure-related aspects of the automation project. This includes setting up the necessary components of the UiPath Platform, such as Orchestrator, robots, Studio, and any required integrations with the client's internal systems.
For external implementations, infrastructure engineers also coordinate with the client's IT and applications teams to ensure that UiPath can be successfully embedded into the client's environment. They address security configurations, access provisioning, software installation, and network requirements.
This role is billable and typically short-term but essential for enabling a technically sound foundation for the automation. Without proper setup, even the most well-designed automation cannot function as intended. The Infrastructure Engineer ensures that developers and robots have the access and infrastructure they need for development, UAT, and production environments.

NEW QUESTION # 34
Which role is responsible for fixing any defects found during UAT?

- A. Automation Developer
- B. Solution Architect
- C. Infrastructure Engineer
- D. Business Analyst

Answer: A

Explanation:
During the User Acceptance Testing (UAT) stage, any defects or issues identified are addressed by the Automation Developer. This role is responsible for building the automation based on the agreed design and then making any required corrections based on UAT feedback.
The automation developer collaborates closely with the business analyst, solution architect, and project manager to ensure that the solution functions correctly in a production-like environment. If testers from the Client Team identify bugs or unexpected behavior, the developer investigates and applies fixes promptly.
Furthermore, the developer must also document changes, update stakeholders, and sometimes revise the test cases or SDD if significant adjustments are made. Their ability to respond quickly and effectively to UAT issues directly influences user confidence and the success of the production rollout.

NEW QUESTION # 35
Which of the following best describes the main benefit of documenting an organized lifecycle for automation projects?

- A. Consistent quality, faster turnaround, and successful implementations
- B. Reduces the need for communication among teams
- C. Increased need for manual approval
- D. Delays in testing and review

Answer: A

Explanation:
Documenting and following an organized lifecycle for automation projects - as outlined in the UiPath Automation Implementation Methodology - leads to consistent quality, faster turnaround times, and more successful implementations.
Each stage in the lifecycle - from Kickoff to Project Closure - has defined roles, responsibilities, deliverables, and checkpoints. This structured approach helps teams stay aligned, reduces misunderstandings, enables better risk management, and ensures that issues are caught early.
With a clear lifecycle, automation projects become repeatable, scalable, and manageable, even as the number of automated processes grows. This approach supports long-term success and helps organizations build sustainable automation programs with measurable value.

NEW QUESTION # 36
Which stage of the Automation Implementation Methodology involves assessing automation candidates for business value and technical feasibility?

- A. Deployment and Hypercare
- B. Process Analysis
- C. Kickoff
- D. Business Case and Technical Validation

Answer: D

Explanation:
The Business Case and Technical Validation stage is crucial for evaluating whether an automation initiative is feasible and valuable. In this stage, selected automation candidates undergo rigorous assessment to determine if they are suitable for automation in terms of business impact and technical execution.
Key stakeholders involved include the business analyst, solution architect, and project manager. The business analyst evaluates the ROI and cost-benefit of automating the process. Simultaneously, the solution architect assesses the technical complexity, dependencies, and access requirements for implementation.
This dual validation ensures the process is worth automating and can be implemented within the current technical environment.
Processes that are highly complex, have low ROI, or involve systems that do not integrate well may be deprioritized or dropped.
Without this stage, organizations risk spending time and resources on automations that may not deliver sufficient value or may face technical hurdles, which is why it is a foundational step in the implementation methodology.

NEW QUESTION # 37
What is the key responsibility of the Client Team Project Manager?

- A. Managing internal client-side processes and escalations
- B. Overseeing infrastructure installation and configuration
- C. Writing automation code in UiPath Studio
- D. Creating the Solution Design Document

Answer: A

Explanation:
The Client Team Project Manager is responsible for managing internal client-side processes and handling escalations during the implementation lifecycle. This role acts as the client's primary liaison with the Implementation Team and ensures that internal dependencies and commitments are met.
Responsibilities include:
* Coordinating Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) and business stakeholders
* Communicating internal timelines and availability
* Facilitating approval processes for documents and deliverables
* Escalating and resolving client-side roadblocks
* Ensuring that the client team is aligned with project expectations
Their involvement ensures that the implementation proceeds without delays caused by unavailability, access issues, or lack of communication from the client side.
