- D. There are rounding differences on the output side on the production order

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Based strictly on learning.sap.com sources, here are the two potential causes for a remaining variance on a production order:

Correct Answers

C. The standard cost price of an input material has changed after calculating the standard price of the produced material

* A standard price update on an input material after the finished material's standard cost estimate can lead to cost differences that aren't categorized, resulting in a remaining variance. SAP Help Portal + SAP Learning + SAP Community + SAP D. The overhead calculation rate is different than that used for the calculation of the standard price

* If cost center overhead rates have changed since the standard costing run, the overhead portion of the production cost won't match the original plan, causing a remaining variance.

* A. Rounding differences - These can lead to small variances but are typically classified under rounding variance, not "remaining" variance.

* B. Moving Average Price (MAP) indicator 'V' - This impacts output variances, not remaining variances within production order calculations.

* C. The standard cost price of an input material has changed after calculating the standard price of the produced material
