USGBC LEED Green Associate Exam Sample Questions (Q166-Q171):

NEW QUESTION # 166

What plumbing fixture eliminates water use?

- A. WaterSense labeled toilet
- B. Low-flow lavatory
- C. Composting toilet
- D. Ultrasonic toilet

Answer: C

Explanation:

A composting toilet eliminates water use by not requiring any water for flushing, unlike traditional or low-flow fixtures:

"Composting toilets... operate without water use, thus eliminating indoor water demand for flushing." WaterSense toilets and low-flow lavatories reduce water use but do not eliminate it.

NEW QUESTION # 167

What do the credits in the Materials and Resources category focus on?

- A. Minimizing the embodied impacts associated With the entire life-cycle of building materials
- B. Selecting materials that are more energy efficient than traditional building materials
- C. Helping project teams select materials that have the most environmental benefits at the least cost
- D. Reducing the quantity of materials used on a project

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

The Materials and Resources (MR) category focuses on reducing the environmental, economic, and social impacts of building materials from extraction to disposal¹². It encourages the use of materials that have lower embodied energy, less waste, more recycled content, and better life-cycle performance¹².

NEW QUESTION # 168

What does the U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC) administer?

- A. LEED Green Associate exams
- B. LEED rating systems development
- C. LEED Project Certification through third-party certification bodies accredited by the American National Standards Institute (ANSI)
- D. LEED Credentialing programs related to Green Building practice

Answer: D

Explanation:

The USGBC administers the LEED credentialing programs, which include the LEED Green Associate and the LEED AP with specialty credentials. The USGBC does not administer the LEED exams, the LEED rating systems development, or the LEED project certification.

The LEED Green Associate Candidate Handbook states that "The U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC) administers the LEED credentialing programs related to green building practice" 1, page 3.

The same handbook also states that "The Green Business Certification Inc. (GBCI) administers the LEED professional credential exams" 1, page 3.

The LEED AP with Specialty Candidate Handbook states that "The U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC) is responsible for the development of the LEED rating systems" 2, page 3.

The same handbook also states that "The Green Business Certification Inc. (GBCI) administers project certification for all commercial and institutional projects pursuing LEED certification under any of the current rating systems" 2, page 3.

NEW QUESTION # 169

The U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC) member logo may be displayed when

- A. a professional is a member of the local USGBC chapter
- B. a professional successfully passes the LEED AP exam
- C. the project team successfully completes and certifies a project with the LEED Rating System
- D. the organization is a member of USGBC

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

The USGBC member logo may be displayed by an organization that is a member of the USGBC. Membership in the USGBC is organizational, not individual, so the logo represents the organization's commitment to sustainability and green building practices.
