How do you give an analyst permission to build tiles?

- A. Add the analyst to the role-based permission group Dashboard Administrators.
- B. Assign the role-based permission in the Analytics RBP Category.
- C. Assign the role-based permission in the Manage Dashboards/Reports RBP Category.
- D. Assign the analyst as a dashboard administrator in Provisioning.

Answer: C

Explanation:

* Granting Tile Creation Permissions

* Why Other Options are Incorrect

* A. Analytics RBP Category: This does not provide permissions specific to tiles.

* B. Dashboard administrator in Provisioning: Provisioning is not required for this task.

NEW QUESTION # 14

You are creating a query that lists employee information such as name, address, and dependent information.

The query uses Personal Information as the driving table and joins the Dependents and Address tables. You notice many employees are missing from the result set. What are the reasons?

□

- A. Personal Information is joined to both the Dependents table and the Address table with an inner join.
- B. Personal Information is joined to Address table with a left join and the Address table is joined to the Dependents table with

- a left join.
- C. Personal Information is joined to Dependents table with a left join and the Dependents table is joined to the Address table with a left join.
- D. Personal Information is joined to both the Dependents table and the Address table with a left join.

Answer: A

Explanation:

- * Understanding the Problem
- * The issue arises because employees without data in either the Dependents table or Address table are excluded from the results.
- * Explanation of Inner Join
- * An inner join returns only rows that have matching entries in both tables. If an employee does not have corresponding records in either Dependents or Address tables, they are excluded from the result set.
- * Solution
- * To ensure all employees are included, you should use a left join, which retains all rows from the Personal Information table even if there are no matches in the joined tables.
- * Why Other Options are Incorrect
- * A, B, and D: These describe left join scenarios, which do not cause the issue described in the question.
