NEW QUESTION # 133

What must be automated to enhance the efficiency of a security team response?

- A. Changing firewall settings for every detected threat, regardless of its severity
- B. Changing all user passwords when a threat is detected
- C. Sending an email to the entire organization when a threat is detected
- D. Isolating affected systems and applying predefined security policies

Answer: D

Explanation:

Automation of containment and response actions-such as isolating compromised endpoints and applying predefined security policies-is a critical capability of Cisco's XDR and SecureX platform. According to SCAZT Section 6: Threat Response (Pages 112-117), automating threat containment allows security teams to rapidly limit the blast radius of incidents and improve mean time to respond (MTTR), without relying solely on manual intervention.
