ASIS Physical Security Professional Exam Sample Questions (Q268-Q273):

NEW QUESTION # 268

The prediction of internal crime relies most heavily on analysis of:

- A. Employee background checks
- B. Employee surveys
- C. Critical area surveillance
- D. Historical data

Answer: D

Explanation:

The prediction of internal crime (e.g., theft, fraud) heavily relies on historical data to identify patterns, vulnerable departments, and recurring behaviors. This data-driven approach informs proactive security strategies.

A (Background checks) are preventive, not predictive.

B and C offer useful insights but are not the primary basis for trend analysis.

NEW QUESTION # 269

What is the term for a situation in which a series of small, undocumented changes result in a cumulative, significant impact on a project?

- A. Incremental change
- B. Cost overrun
- C. Project drift
- D. Scope creep

Answer: D

Explanation:

Scope creep refers to the uncontrolled expansion of a project's scope without corresponding adjustments to time, cost, or resources. It occurs when small, undocumented changes accumulate, leading to a significant shift from the original objectives. In physical security projects, this may result in unanticipated costs, resource drains, or compromised system designs.

Cost overrun (A) is a result of scope creep but not the cause.

Incremental change (B) refers to planned, manageable changes.

Project drift (C) is a loosely defined term and less specific than scope creep.

NEW QUESTION # 270

The concept of what requires the mobilization of political, financial and industrial resources for the development and production of modern homeland security and defense?

- A. Modern Revolutionary
- B. Modern War weapons
- C. International terrorism
- D. Modern terrorism

Answer: D

Explanation:

Modern terrorism, unlike historical or localized violence, leverages advanced technologies and global networks. It necessitates comprehensive national strategies involving political decision-making, resource allocation, intelligence, law enforcement, and industry collaboration to combat the sophisticated threats posed.

NEW QUESTION # 271

A good hybrid security operation consists of which component?

- A. consistent contract management support
- B. accurate quality measurements
- C. engaged corporate liaison
- D. All of the above

Answer: D

Explanation:

A successful hybrid security operation integrates both proprietary and contract components effectively. For optimal performance, it should include:

An engaged corporate liaison (A) to ensure communication and alignment with internal needs, Consistent contract management support (B) for service oversight and accountability, Accurate quality measurements (C) to monitor effectiveness and performance. Combining these elements ensures that both internal and contracted personnel function cohesively and according to the organization's goals.

NEW QUESTION # 272

Microwave sensors work best on targets moving through the detection zone:

- A. At high speed
- B. Toward or away from the sensor
- C. Laterally in relation to the sensor
- D. At low speed

Answer: C

Explanation:

Comprehensive Detailed Explanation:

Microwave sensors, which work by emitting electromagnetic waves and detecting changes in the reflected signal, are most effective when a target moves laterally (side-to-side) across the detection zone. This movement creates the greatest frequency shift (Doppler effect), making it easier for the sensor to detect motion.

Movement directly toward or away (C) causes minimal frequency change and can go undetected.

Speed (B or D) matters, but direction relative to the sensor is the key factor for detection efficiency.
