ServiceNow Certified Application Developer-ServiceNow Sample Questions (Q19-Q24):

NEW QUESTION # 19

Which one of the following is true regarding Application Scope?

- A. Any developer can edit any application
- B. Developers can choose the prefix for a scope's namespace
- C. All applications are automatically part of the Global scope
- D. Applications downloaded from 3rd party ServiceNow application developers cannot have naming conflicts

Answer: D

Explanation:

https://docs.servicenow.com/bundle/rome-application-development/page/build/applications/concept/c_ApplicationScope.html The correct statement regarding Application Scope is that applications downloaded from 3rd party ServiceNow application developers cannot have naming conflicts. Application Scope is a feature that identifies and isolates applications and their related artifacts from other applications. Each scoped application has a unique namespace identifier that consists of a prefix and a scope name. This prevents cross-application name collisions and ensures that only authorized scripts can access or modify data in a scoped application. NEW QUESTION # 20

Here is the Business Rule script template:

(function executeRule (current, previous) /null when async/) {
    // ...
})(current, previous);

This type of JavaScript function is known as:

- A. Constructor
- B. Anonymous
- C. Self-invoking
- D. Scoped

Answer: C

Explanation:

Self-invoking. Learn JavaScript!

This type of JavaScript function is known as self-invoking or immediately-invoked function expression (IIFE). It is a function that is defined and executed at the same time, without being assigned to a variable or being called by another function. It is often used to create a local scope for variables and avoid polluting the global namespace. NEW QUESTION # 21

Why would you build a custom app?

- A. To avoid using a code repository like GitHub or GitLab
- B. To create a custom integration for a 3rd party system
- C. To replace ServiceNow base tables
- D. To fulfill a specific use case on internal processes.

Answer: D

Explanation:

A possible reason to build a custom app is to fulfill a specific use case on internal processes. For example, you may want to digitize a manual process that is not covered by an existing ServiceNow solution, such as managing inventory, tracking expenses, or scheduling events. Building a custom app on the Now Platform can help you automate workflows, improve data quality, and provide better user experiences. The other options are not valid reasons to build a custom app. To avoid using a code repository like GitHub or GitLab is not a reason to build a custom app, as you can still use source control integration with your custom app development. To create a custom integration for a 3rd party system is not a reason to build a custom app, as you can use integration tools such as IntegrationHub or REST APIs to connect with external systems without creating an app. To replace ServiceNow base tables is not a reason to build a custom app, as it is not recommended to modify or delete base tables that are essential for ServiceNow functionality. NEW QUESTION # 22

How does the Application Picker interact with Application Scope in ServiceNow?

- A. Selecting Global in the Application Picker sets the Application Scope to Incident.
- B. Selecting an application from the Application Picker does not set the Application Scope.
- C. Global is a reserved application which does not appear in the Application Picker.
- D. Selecting an application from the Application Picker sets the Application Scope.

Answer: D

Explanation:

In ServiceNow, the Application Picker is a tool that allows developers to select the active application scope.

When an application is selected from the Application Picker, it sets the Application Scope to that application.

This means that any configurations, scripts, or customizations made will be associated with the selected application's scope.

Therefore, the correct answer is D.

The other options are incorrect:

* A. Selecting Global in the Application Picker sets the Application Scope to Incident: Selecting "Global" sets the scope to the global application, not specifically to Incident.

* B. Global is a reserved application which does not appear in the Application Picker: The Global application does appear in the Application Picker and can be selected.

* C. Selecting an application from the Application Picker does not set the Application Scope:

Selecting an application does set the Application Scope.

For more detailed information, refer to the official ServiceNow documentation on Application Scope.
