NEW QUESTION # 14

A client would like to use at.js 2.x to integrate third-party weather data from a service that provides the temperature of the site visitor's location based on IP. This will allow the client to promote products to visitors based on their local weather. The third-party weather request needs to resolve with the temperature before the global Target request (mbox) happens. A Data Provider will be used to gather this data in lieu of targetPageParams(). Why should Data Providers be used instead of targetPageParams()?

- A. Content hiding is enabled until the Data Provider resolves using the callback function passed to the Data Provider.
- B. The window.targetPageParams() function disables body hiding when used.
- C. Data Providers offer a built in XHR function to make a third party request to the weather service.
- D. The targetPageParams() function is not supported in at.js 2.x.
