- A. `import updateAccounts from "Salesforce/apex/AccountController";`
- B. `import updateAccounts from "Account@ontroller.updateAccounts";`
- C. `import updateAccounts from "@salesforce/apex/AccountController.updateAccounts";`

NEW QUESTION # 194

A developer is creating a test coverage for a class and needs to insert records to validate functionality. Which method annotation should be used to create records for every method in the test class?

- A. @PreTest
- B. @BeforeTest
- C. @isTest(SeeAllData=True)
- D. @TestSetup

Answer: D

Explanation:

The @TestSetup annotation is used to create records for every method in the test class. This annotation allows you to create common test data that is available for all test methods in the class. The test setup method runs only once before any test methods in the class. This reduces the need to create the same records for every test method and improves the performance of the test class. The @BeforeTest annotation is not a valid annotation in Apex. The @isTest(SeeAllData=True) annotation is used to grant test classes and methods access to all data in the organization, not to create records. The @PreTest annotation is not a valid annotation in Apex. References: IsTest Annotation | Apex Developer Guide | Salesforce Developers, How to Write a Test Class in Salesforce?
