Google Cloud Digital Leader Sample Questions (Q413-Q418):

NEW QUESTION # 413

A customer has a tens of applications that are dependent on Oracle databases in their on-premise data centers. The customer wants to migrate to Google Cloud. Their long term goal is to move to other cloud native database technologies. What options do they have to initially move their data?

- A. Migrate to Cloud SQL.
- B. Since there is no hosted Oracle solution, leave the Oracle data on-premise while doing analytics on Google Cloud.
- C. Containerize Oracle and run it using Cloud Run.
- D. Migrate to a Bare Metal server.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Bare Metal solution is the recommended approach. You can deploy Oracle capabilities like clustered databases, replication, and all performance features at licensing costs that are similar to on-premise systems

NEW QUESTION # 414

You have contracted a partner to conduct some medical trials. This is a limited, 2-month contract. At the end of each day, you are expecting about 10 Gbs of data. The data is highly sensitive. What networking option would you employ?

- A. Create a public IP for a VM and share that with your partners so that they can access it over the internet and share the data.
- B. Setup Dedicated Interconnect with your partner.
- C. As the name indicates, set up Partner Interconnect with your partner company.
- D. Setup Cloud VPN and create an IPsec VPN tunnel with your partner.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

"Cloud VPN securely extends your peer network to Google's network through an IPsec VPN tunnel. Traffic is encrypted and travels between the two networks over the public internet. Cloud VPN is useful for low-volume data connections. For additional connection options, see the Hybrid Connectivity product page."

NEW QUESTION # 415

One of your customers used to have a private data center. While within their data center itself, they were consuming some Google services via API calls and other public, well-known addresses published by Google. Now they're evacuating their private data center and are moving to Google Cloud. Could they improve some of their existing architecture with respect to security?

- A. Enable Private Google Access so that they can remove public IP addresses.
- B. Use Shared VPCs with the Google Cloud organization so that you can directly use services using only private IPs.
- C. Use VPC Peering with the Google Cloud organization so that you can directly use services using only private IPs.
- D. Use private addresses only. No additional configuration is required. All Google services will be accessible within Google Cloud on private addresses.

Answer: A

Explanation:

"VM instances that only have internal IP addresses (no external IP addresses) can use Private Google Access. They can reach the external IP addresses of Google APIs and services. If you disable Private Google Access, the VM instances can no longer reach Google APIs and services; they can only send traffic within the VPC network."
