Microsoft AI Business Professional Sample Questions (Q87-Q92):

NEW QUESTION # 87

Which of the following is a key capability of Natural Language Processing (NLP)?

- A. Detecting and preventing fraudulent transactions
- B. Analyzing and understanding human language in text or speech
- C. Predicting future trends based on historical data
- D. Optimizing the production line in a factory

Answer: B

Explanation:

NLP allows machines to read, understand, and generate human language, enabling AI systems to interact with users through text and speech. It's used in applications such as chatbots, sentiment analysis, and language translation.

NEW QUESTION # 88

You sign in to the Microsoft 365 Copilot app by using your work account as shown in the exhibit.

A colleague tells you that when they open the Microsoft 365 Copilot app, they have access to the Researcher agent. You need to access the Researcher agent.

What should you do?

- A. From Microsoft Edge, use your work account to sign in to <https://copilot.microsoft.com>.
- B. Select Explore agents and then search for Researcher.
- C. Sign in to the Copilot app by using a personal account.
- D. Request a Microsoft 365 Copilot license from an administrator.

Answer: B

Explanation:

In Microsoft 365 Copilot, agents such as Researcher are accessed through the Agents experience within the Copilot app. If the user interface does not immediately display a specific agent, the correct action is to browse or search the available agents catalog. The exhibit shows the left navigation pane with an Explore agents option.

According to Microsoft AI Business Professional guidance, built-in and custom agents can be discovered and enabled through the Explore agents section. If the user already has the appropriate Copilot license and is signed in with their work account, there is no need to switch accounts or request another license.

Signing in through a browser does not change feature availability, and using a personal account would remove access to organizational features. Therefore, to access the Researcher agent, you should select Explore agents and search for Researcher.

NEW QUESTION # 89

You receive several images from a colleague.

You suspect that the images were generated by using Microsoft 365 Copilot.

What can you use to verify whether the images were AI-generated?

- A. file descriptions
- B. file names
- C. watermarks
- D. content credentials

Answer: D

Explanation:

Microsoft's approach to transparency for AI-generated media relies on provenance signals rather than cosmetic indicators. File names and descriptions can be edited easily and are not reliable evidence of how an image was created. Watermarks may appear in some contexts, but they are not consistently applied across all AI image-generation workflows and can sometimes be removed or lost through copying, screenshotting, or file conversion.

Microsoft supports the use of content credentials to help users verify whether digital content was created or modified with AI. Content credentials are part of a provenance standard (often associated with C2PA) that can embed tamper-evident metadata into media files. When present, these credentials can show information about the tool or process used to generate or edit the image, providing a verifiable chain of origin.

Therefore, the most dependable way to verify whether the images were AI-generated is to check for content credentials (option C), since they are designed specifically to provide authenticity and provenance information for AI-created or AI-edited content.

Explanation:

a specific date range of activity

From the Microsoft 365 My Account portal, if you select Delete history for the Copilot activity history, you can delete

- a specific conversation.

NEW QUESTION # 91

You plan to use a notebook in Microsoft 365 Copilot. What is the purpose of a notebook?

- A. to create a transcript of a conversation that you can easily email to other users
- B. to provide a private location that can be used to organize reference materials across related conversations
- C. to generate a summary of all the interactions you had with Copilot during a specific conversation

Answer: B

Explanation:

In Microsoft 365 Copilot, a notebook is a workspace intended to organize and ground related Copilot work.

Microsoft guidance describes notebooks as a way to bring together multiple conversations and keep them aligned to the same set of reference materials—such as documents, notes, links, or other resources—so you don't have to repeatedly attach or restate the same context. This improves consistency and prompt-grounding across a set of related tasks (for example, managing a project, developing a proposal, or maintaining a recurring report).

Option B correctly captures this purpose: a notebook provides a private, organized location where reference materials can be curated and reused across related Copilot conversations.

Option A is incorrect because notebooks are not primarily designed to generate email-ready transcripts of conversations. Option C is incorrect because generating a summary of interactions is a conversation-level function; notebooks are broader organizational containers for materials and related workstreams, not a "summary generator" of a single chat thread.

Therefore, the purpose of a notebook is to organize reference materials across related conversations.
