- B. A master data record that contains information specific to a material and the contract.
- C. A master data record that contains information specific to a material and the purchase order.
- D. A master data record that contains information specific to a material and the supplier.

Answer: D

Explanation:

A Purchasing Info Record (PIR) is a master data object in SAP S/4HANA that stores procurement-related information for a specific material and supplier combination. Below is an explanation of the correct answer:

* A master data record that contains information specific to a material and the supplier (B): The PIR includes details such as pricing conditions, order quantities, and delivery schedules for a specific material supplied by a specific vendor. It serves as a reference point for procurement transactions like purchase orders.

* A master data record that contains information specific to a material and the purchase order (A):

Purchase orders are transactional documents, not master data. The PIR provides the basis for creating purchase orders but is not tied to individual orders.

* A master data record that contains information specific to a material and the customer (C):

Customer-related information is managed in sales and distribution processes, not in purchasing info records.

* A master data record that contains information specific to a material and the contract (D):

Contracts are separate procurement documents, and while they may reference PIRs, the PIR itself is not tied to a specific contract.

- B. By closing the current period using the Close Periods app.
- C. By triggering a background job using Close Period for Product Master app
- D. By using Manage Posting Periods app.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

To open a new posting period for material master records in SAP S/4HANA Cloud Public Edition, specific apps are used to manage posting periods effectively. Below is an explanation of the correct answers:

- * By using the Manage Product Master Data app (C): The Manage Product Master Data app allows users to maintain material master records, including extending them to new posting periods. This ensures that materials are available for transactions in the new period.
- * By using Manage Posting Periods app (D): The Manage Posting Periods app is used to define and control the opening and closing of posting periods for financial and material transactions. It ensures that the system allows postings only within valid periods.
- * By closing the current period using the Close Periods app (A): Closing the current period does not automatically open a new one. Separate steps are required to define and activate the new period.
- * By triggering a background job using Close Period for Product Master app (B): There is no standard app called "Close Period for Product Master" in SAP S/4HANA Cloud Public Edition. This option is invalid.
