VMware Advanced VMware Cloud Foundation 9.0 Operation Sample Questions (Q166-Q171):

NEW QUESTION # 166

What are the mandatory software components that constitute the Management Domain in a VMware Cloud Foundation (VCF) environment?

- A. VMware vSphere (ESXi and vCenter), VMware vSAN, VMware Aria Operations, and VMware Aria Automation.
- B. VMware vSphere (ESXi and vCenter), VMware vSAN, VMware NSX, and VMware SDDC Manager.
- C. VMware vSphere (ESXi and vCenter), VMware vSAN, VMware NSX, and VMware Aria Suite Lifecycle.

- D. VMware vSphere (ESXi and vCenter), VMware NSX, VMware SDDC Manager, and VMware HCX.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 167

An analyst is viewing a query result that shows 10,000 events. They want to break down these events to see which Hostname is generating the most logs, rather than seeing a flat list.

Which Interactive Analytics feature transforms the view into this summarized format?

- A. Switch to the "Chart" tab (or check the visual header) and set the "Group By" (or Break By) field to "hostname". This aggregates the event count by host and displays the top talkers (e.g., Host A: 5000, Host B: 2000), allowing the analyst to identify the noisy source immediately.
- B. Change the "Chart Type" to "Pie Chart" without changing settings.
- C. Click "Export to PDF".
- D. Type group=hostname in the search bar.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 168

A VCF Operations for Logs administrator notices that the cluster has entered "Read-Only Mode".

New logs are being rejected, and the UI displays a critical banner.

Status

Node 1: Disk Usage 96%

Node 2: Disk Usage 40%

Node 3: Disk Usage 42%

What is the root cause of this cluster-wide outage?

- A. Disk Space Exhaustion on a single node. In VCF Operations for Logs, if any single node in the cluster reaches its storage limit (typically >95% or defined threshold) and cannot rotate out old buckets fast enough (or retention is misconfigured), the entire cluster stops ingestion to prevent data corruption. The remediation is to expand the disk on Node 1 or check why it isn't archiving.
- B. The Integrated Load Balancer (ILB) has detected a split-brain scenario.
- C. The cluster requires a manual rebalance operation.
- D. The "Read-Only" license key was applied.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 169

A VCF Operations cluster is running with 8 nodes (the maximum for the current sizing standard used by the customer). The environment continues to grow, and the cluster is hitting CPU contention.

Constraints

- Scale-Out limit reached (per internal policy).

- Current Node Size: Medium (8 vCPU).

Goal

Increase compute capacity without adding more VM instances (nodes).

Which scaling method is applicable?

- A. Deploy a second separate VCF Operations cluster and use Federation.
- B. Vertical Scale-Up: Shut down the cluster, increase the vCPU and RAM settings on all nodes to the "Large" or "Extra Large" specification, and restart.
- C. Enable "Hyper-Threading" on the VCF Operations application settings.
- D. There is no solution; data must be deleted.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 170

In the VCF architecture, which component provides "End-to-End Network Visibility" by correlating data between the virtual overlay (NSX) and the physical underlay (Switches/Routers)?

- A. VCF Operations for Logs
- B. VCF Operations (Metrics)
- C. VCF Operations for Networks
- D. SDDC Manager

Answer: C
