CompTIA Project+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q308-Q313):

NEW QUESTION # 308
The quarterly financial report displays losses from a project even though the project was completed successfully several weeks ago. Which of the following actions should the project manager perform next?

- A. Complete the project sign-off.
- B. Release the resources.
- C. Remove access.
- D. Outline the lessons learned.

Answer: A

Explanation:
The project sign-off is the formal acceptance of the project deliverables by the client, stakeholder, or customer.
It also marks the closure of the project and the release of the final payment. If the project sign-off is not completed, the project may still incur costs and liabilities, which can explain the losses in the financial report.
Therefore, the project manager should complete the project sign-off as soon as possible to avoid further losses12.

NEW QUESTION # 309
In a functional organization, a project has been completed successfully. Which of the following actions would the project manager MOST likely perform?

- A. Assemble a new project with existing resources.
- B. Notify the functional manager that resources are released.
- C. Obtain the final report from release management.
- D. Allocate resources in a different project

Answer: B

Explanation:
The project manager should notify the functional manager that resources are released after completing a project successfully in a functional organization. A functional organization is a type of organizational structure where employees are grouped by their functions or specialties, such as finance, marketing, or engineering. In a functional organization, the functional manager has more authority and control over the resources than the project manager. Therefore, the project manager should inform the functional manager when the resources are no longer needed for the project and can be reassigned to other tasks or projects.

NEW QUESTION # 310
Which of the following is a test that is done on an existing system to ensure the previous functionality still works after a change has been made?

- A. Smoke testing
- B. Unit testing
- C. User acceptance testing
- D. Regression testing

Answer: D

Explanation:
Regression testing is a type of testing that is done on an existing system to ensure that the previous functionality still works after a change has been made. Regression testing is a process of retesting or verifying that a software system or application still performs as expected after it has been modified or updated with new features, bug fixes, patches, etc. Regression testing can help to detect any errors or defects that may have been introduced by the change and ensure that no functionality has been broken or degraded.

NEW QUESTION # 311
A PM received feedback from the project sponsor that the resources involved in the project are unsure of their daily activities. Which of the following is the MOST effective step for the PM to take to ensure clarity within the team?

- A. Create a list of tasks and share it with the team.
- B. Have the project sponsor meet with the team.
- C. Resend the scope of work to the team.
- D. Review the Gantt chart weekly with the team.

Answer: D

Explanation:
Explanation
Reviewing the Gantt chart weekly with the team would be the most effective step for the project manager to take to ensure clarity within the team after receiving feedback from the project sponsor that the resources involved in the project are unsure of their daily activities. A Gantt chart is a graphical tool that shows the schedule of a project, including the start and end dates, durations, dependencies, milestones, and progress of each task or activity. Reviewing the Gantt chart weekly with the team can help to clarify their roles and responsibilities, assign tasks and deadlines, track and report their status and performance, identify and resolve any issues or risks, and keep them aligned and engaged with the project goals.VVVVVVVVVVVVV

NEW QUESTION # 312
During a brainstorming session, a project team is elaborating on what caused the unexpected crash of the website that the team was developing. Given the following:
Which of the following was the initial cause of the issue?

- A. Lack of infrastructure
- B. Inadequate memory
- C. Incorrect configuration
- D. Inadequate instructions

Answer: C

Explanation:
Incorrect configuration was the initial cause of the issue that caused the unexpected crash of the website that the team was developing. The diagram given is an example of a fishbone diagram or a cause-and-effect diagram that shows the possible causes of a problem or effect. The diagram has four main categories: people, process, technology, and environment. Each category has subcategories that list specific factors that may contribute to the problem or effect. The diagram shows that incorrect configuration under technology was marked as an initial cause of website crash.
