When adding secure views to a share in Snowflake, which function is needed to authorize users from another account to access rows in a base table?

- A. CURRENT ACCOUNT
- B. CURRENT CLIENT
- C. CURRENT USER
- D. CURRENT ROLE

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 62

A company has implemented Snowflake replication between two Snowflake accounts, both of which are running on a Snowflake Enterprise edition. The replication is for the database APP_DB containing only one schema, APP_SCHEMA. The company's time Travel retention policy is currently set for 30 days for both accounts. An Administrator has been asked to extend the time Travel retention policy to 60 days on the secondary database only. How can this requirement be met?

- A. Set the data retention policy on the schemas in the secondary database to 60 days.
- B. Set the data retention policy on the secondary database to 60 days.
- C. Set the data retention policy on the primary database to 60 days.
- D. Set the data retention policy on the primary database to 30 days and the schemas to 60 days.

Answer: C

Explanation:

In Snowflake replication, Time Travel retention is determined by the primary database and is replicated to the secondary. The secondary cannot have a longer retention than the primary. To extend retention to 60 days on the secondary, the primary database's retention must be increased to 60 days.
