CrowdStrike Falcon Administrator Sample Questions (Q138-Q143):

NEW QUESTION # 138

Once an exclusion is saved, what can be edited in the future?

- A. Only the selected groups and hosts to which the exclusion is applied can be changed
- B. The exclusion pattern cannot be changed
- C. Only the options to "Detect/Block" and/or "File Extraction" can be changed
- D. All parts of the exclusion can be changed

Answer: D

Explanation:

Once an exclusion is saved, all parts of the exclusion can be changed in the future. The administrator can edit an existing exclusion by selecting it from the Exclusions page and modifying any of its fields, such as pattern, type, option, group or host. The other options are either incorrect or not true of editing exclusions.

NEW QUESTION # 139

What is the function of a single asterisk (*) in an ML exclusion pattern?

- A. The single asterisk is the insertion point for the variable list that follows the path
- B. The single asterisk will match any number of characters, including none. It does include separator characters, such as \ or /, which separate portions of a file path
- C. The single asterisk is only used to start an expression, and it represents the drive letter
- D. The single asterisk will match any number of characters, including none. It does not include separator characters, such as \ or /, which separate portions of a file path

Answer: D

Explanation:

Reference: <https://docs.microsoft.com/en-us/azure/machine-learning> The asterisk is a wildcard character that can be used in exclusion patterns to match any number of characters. However, it does not match separator characters, such as \ or /, which are used to separate portions of a file path. For example, the pattern C:\Windows\*\*.exe will match any executable file in any subfolder of the Windows folder, but not in the Windows folder itself.

NEW QUESTION # 140

To enhance your security, you want to detect and block based on a list of domains and IP addresses. How can you use IOC management to help this objective?

- A. Using IOC management, import the list of hashes and IP addresses and set the action to No Action

- B. Using IOC management, import the list of hashes and IP addresses and set the action to Prevent/Block
- C. Using IOC management, import the list of hashes and IP addresses and set the action to Detect Only
- D. Blocking of Domains and IP addresses is not a function of IOC management. A Custom IOA Rule should be used instead

Answer: D

Explanation:

IOC management only allows "Detect only" and "No Action" among the possible actions.

Therefore, it cannot be used to block based on IPs or domains. Custom IOA Rule groups allow to create rule types based on Network Connection (configuring a remote IP address) and domains, and gives the options to "Monitor", "Detect" and "Kill Process", being the last one the closest to "block".

NEW QUESTION # 141

- A. After disabling detections, the data for all existing detections prior to disabling detections is removed from the Event Search
- B. The DetectionSummaryEvent continues being sent to the Streaming API for that host
- C. The detections for that host are removed from the console immediately. No new detections will display in the console going forward unless detections are enabled
- D. After disabling detections, the host will operate in Reduced Functionality Mode (RFM) until detections are enabled

Answer: C

Explanation:

The option that is true regarding disabling detections for a host is that the detections for that host are removed from the console immediately. No new detections will display in the console going forward unless detections are enabled. This option is essentially a repetition of question 127 and its answer. Disabling detections for a host will remove any existing detections for that host from the console and prevent any new detections from appearing in the console until detections are enabled again.
