Universal Containers has an order system that uses an Order Number to identify an order for customers and service agents. Order records will be imported into Salesforce.

How should the Order Number field be defined in Salesforce?

- A. External ID and Unique
- B. Indirect Lookup
- C. Lookup
- D. Direct Lookup

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 97

The operation manager at a construction company uses a custom object called Machinery to manage the usage and maintenance of its cranes and other machinery. The manager wants to be able to assign machinery to different constructions jobs, and track the dates and costs associated with each job. More than one piece of machinery can be assigned to one construction job.

What should a developer do to meet these requirements?

- A. Create a lookup field on the Construction Job object to the Machinery object.
- B. Create a lookup field on the Machinery object to the Construction Job object.
- C. Create a Master-Detail Lookup on the Machinery object to the Construction Job object.
- D. Create a junction object with Master-Detail Relationship to both the Machinery object and the Construction Job object.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 98

A developer is migrating a Visualforce page into a Lightning web component.

The Visualforce page shows information about a single record. The developer decides to use Lightning Data Service to access record data.

Which security consideration should the developer be aware of?

- A. The `isAccessible()` method must be used for field-level access checks
- B. The `with sharing` keyword must be used to enforce sharing rules.
- C. Lightning Data Service ignores field-level security.
- D. Lightning Data Service handles sharing rules and field-level security.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Lightning Data Service is the preferred (and easiest) way to work with Salesforce data. With Lightning Data Service, developers use JavaScript to connect components to Salesforce data<sup>1</sup>. Lightning Data Service also provides security by making server calls to secure User Interface API endpoints<sup>2</sup>. Lightning Data Service respects the sharing rules and field-level security of the current user, so developers do not need to write any additional code to enforce them<sup>3</sup>. The other options are either incorrect or irrelevant for Lightning Data Service. References:

NEW QUESTION # 99

What is the result of the following code?

- A. The record will be created and no error will be reported.
- B. The record will not be created and no error will be reported.
- C. The record will not be created and an exception will be thrown.
- D. The record will be created and a message will be in the debug log.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The result of the following code is that the record will not be created and an exception will be thrown. This is because the code is trying to insert a record with a null value for a required field, which violates the database constraints and causes a `DMLException`<sup>1</sup>. The code does not handle the exception with a try-catch block, so the exception will propagate to the caller and terminate the execution<sup>2</sup>. The debug log will show the exception message and stack trace, but the record will not be inserted in the database.

Java

Account a = new Account();
```

```
a.Name = null;
```

```
insert a;

AI-generated code. Review and use carefully. More info on FAQ.

The other options are incorrect. Option B is incorrect because the record will not be created and the debug log will show an exception, not a message. Option C is incorrect because the record will not be created and an error will be reported as an exception. Option D is incorrect because the record will not be created and an error will be reported as an exception. References:
