NEW QUESTION # 286

There is a saturated link that has traffic shaping configured. How is incoming traffic processed?

- A. Excess traffic is queued for later transmission.
- B. Traffic is compressed so that the traffic fits within the bandwidth of the link.
- C. Excess traffic is queued, and then dropped after the timer expires.
- D. Excess traffic is dropped.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Policing Versus Shaping

The following diagram illustrates the key difference. Traffic policing propagates bursts. When the traffic rate reaches the configured maximum rate, excess traffic is dropped (or remarked). The result is an output rate that appears as a saw-tooth with crests and troughs. In contrast to policing, traffic shaping retains excess packets in a queue and then schedules the excess for later transmission over increments of time. The result of traffic shaping is a smoothed packet output rate.
