- B. User Criteria
- C. Roles
- D. Groups

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 208

What do you install when you want to add applications or functionality within your development instance?

- A. Plugin
- B. Patch
- C. App Package
- D. Updated Pack
- E. App Updated Set

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 209

(Deleting a field from a table caused the field to be removed from multiple tables. What type of field was deleted?)

- A. Base system field
- B. Custom field
- C. Reference field
- D. Inherited field

Answer: D

Explanation:

ServiceNow tables commonly use table extension, where a child table inherits fields from a parent table.

When a field is defined on a parent table, that field is automatically available on all extended child tables.

Because of this inheritance model, deleting a field that originates from the parent table effectively removes it from every table that inherits it, which can appear as "the field was removed from multiple tables." That behavior is characteristic of an inherited field: it is not independently defined on each child table, so it does not exist as separate copies to delete individually. A reference field is simply a field type that points to another table and would not inherently remove itself from multiple tables when deleted. A custom field is typically created on a specific table; deleting it would usually impact only that table (unless that table is a parent and the field is inherited, which is precisely the inherited-field scenario). "Base system field" is not the right explanation for multi-table removal; the key cause is inheritance through table extension.

NEW QUESTION # 210

Access Control debug information identifies whether each element of an Access Control granted or denied access. The elements appear in the debug information in the order of evaluation. In which order are the elements of an Access Control evaluated?

- A. Roles, Conditions, Script
- B. Conditions, Roles, Script
- C. Conditions, Script, Roles
- D. Script, Conditions, Roles

Answer: A

Explanation:

"The sequence is ROLES first, then condition, then script." - Chuck Tomasi says so at this link:
