NEW QUESTION # 152

The customer has successfully completed a Non-Disruptive Migration.

Use the simulator to verify migration sessions and remove the migration environment.

□

Answer:

Explanation:

See the explanation for step by step solution.

Explanation:

Okay, I understand. The task is to verify the completion of Non-Disruptive Migrations (NDM) and then remove the migration environment using the Unisphere for PowerMax simulator.

Here's a step-by-step guide on how to do this, based on typical Unisphere functionality and the context of the question:

Steps:

1. Launch the Simulator and Navigate to the Migration Section

- * Open Unisphere for PowerMax in your web browser.

- * Log in to the simulator.

- * In the left-hand navigation pane, locate the section related to migrations. This is usually under either:

- * Data Mobility

- * Migration

- * Expand the relevant section and click on Migrations (or a similar option like "Local Migrations" or "NDM"). This will take you to the view where you can manage Non-Disruptive Migrations.

2. Verify Migration Session Status

- * The Migrations view will list all current and past migration sessions.

- * Look for the following status indicators to confirm that the migrations have completed successfully:

- * Status: The status should typically be "Completed," "Cutover Complete," or a similar status indicating successful completion.

- * Progress: If a progress bar or percentage is shown, it should be at 100% or show that all data has been synchronized.

- * Important: If any sessions are still in a "Running," "Synchronizing," or other non-completed state, do not proceed with removing the migration environment. Wait for them to complete.

3. Select Completed Migrations for Removal

- * Once you've verified that all relevant migration sessions are successfully completed, select the sessions that you want to remove.

- * You can usually select sessions by:

- * Clicking a checkbox next to each session.

- * Clicking on the session itself (if the interface allows it).

4. Remove the Migration Environment

- * After selecting the completed migration sessions, look for an action button or menu option to remove them. This might be labeled:

- * "Remove"

- * "Delete"

- * "Cleanup"

- * "Remove Session"

- * Click the appropriate button to initiate the removal process.

- * Confirmation: You will likely be prompted with a confirmation message to make sure you want to remove the selected migration sessions. Verify that you have selected the correct sessions and confirm the removal.

5. Verify Removal (Optional)

- * After the removal operation completes, the Migrations view should refresh.

- * Verify that the migration sessions you removed are no longer listed.
