- A. VLB
- B. vAG
- C. WI
- D. License

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation (HCIA-Cloud Computing aligned):

FusionAccess consists of multiple components, each with different roles and data persistence requirements.

* WI (Web Interface) stores configuration and user access information and supports backup.

* VLB (Virtual Load Balancer) maintains configuration data that can be backed up.

* vAG (Virtual Access Gateway) also stores configuration-related data that supports backup and recovery.

The License component, however, is not backed up as configuration or system data. Licensing information is typically re-imported or reactivated during recovery rather than restored from backup.

Therefore, the component that does not have backup data is License.
