NEW QUESTION # 141

Universal Containers (UC) defines a Warranty Period in a field on its Products and wants to ensure that this Warranty Period is correctly stored on the Asset record. A twin field has been created on the Asset record. UC contracts from the Order. When leveraging the twin field functionality to pass this Information to the Asset record, on which object should the admin create a twin field?

- A. Opportunity Product
- B. Quote Line
- C. Product Option
- D. Order Product

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 142

Universal Containers (UC) sells licenses set up as subscription Products. A UC sales rep has closed an Opportunity associated to a Quote with a Subscription Term of 36 months. The sales rep and a customer have agreed to a Quantity of 100 licenses for the term of the Contract. The customer wants to decrease the license count to 80 licenses after the first year. After the second year, the Contract will be amended again to increase the license count to 120 licenses. After the sales rep amends the Contract to incorporate these changes, what are the respective Quantities of the three quote lines and subscriptions for the below transactions:

* The original sale

* The first amendment

* The second amendment

- A. Quote Line: 100, -20, 40, Subscription: 100, -20, 40
- B. Quote Line: 100, 80, 120, Subscription: 100, -20, 40
- C. Quote Line: 100, 80, 120, Subscription: 100, 80, 120
- D. Quote Line: 100, -20, 40, Subscription: 100, 80, 120

Answer: B

Explanation:

In Salesforce CPQ, amendments adjust subscription quantities incrementally. The original sale (Quote Line and Subscription) is 100. The first amendment reduces to 80, a decrease of 20, so the Quote Line is 80 (absolute), and the Subscription delta is -20 (reflecting the change). The second amendment increases to 120, an increase of 40 from 80, so the Quote Line is 120, and the Subscription delta is 40. Subscription quantities in amendments show the net change (-20, 40) rather than absolute values (80, 120), aligning with CPQ's amendment mechanics. Option B correctly reflects this: Quote Lines (100, 80, 120) show user-facing totals, while Subscriptions (100, -20, 40) show deltas. Salesforce CPQ documentation explains this behavior in amendment scenarios. References: Salesforce CPQ Documentation - "Amending Contracts" and "Subscription Quantity Handling".

- A. A second Order is generated with the remaining Quote Lines.
- B. An Order without Order Products is created.
- C. An error is thrown informing the user an order already exists.
- D. The existing Order is updated with the remaining Quote Lines.
