NEW QUESTION # 18

Complete the following sentence. In the ADM, documents which are under development and have not undergone any formal review and approval process are called _____ Documents which have been reviewed and approved are called _____

- A. "draft"- "finalized"
- B. "Version 0.1" - "Version 1.0"
- C. "draft" - "approved"
- D. "concept" - "deliverable"

Answer: C

Explanation:

According to the TOGAF Standard, 10th Edition, documents which are under development and have not undergone any formal review and approval process are called draft documents, while documents which have been reviewed and approved are called approved documents 1. Draft documents are typically marked with a version number of 0.x, indicating that they are incomplete or provisional. Approved documents are typically marked with a version number of 1.0 or higher, indicating that they have been finalized and authorized. The other options are not correct, as they are not the terms used by the TOGAF Standard to distinguish between documents under development and documents that have been reviewed and approved. The terms "finalized", "concept", "deliverable", and "Version 0.1" and "Version 1.0" are not specific to the TOGAF Standard, and they may have different meanings or interpretations in different contexts. Answer: A

What criteria for a good architecture principle indicates that it is sufficiently definitive and precise to support consistent decision-making in complex situations?

- A. Consistency
- B. Robustness
- C. Completeness
- D. Stability

Answer: B

Explanation:

In the TOGAF Standard, a well-defined architecture principle must meet several quality criteria, such as understandability, robustness, completeness, and consistency. The criterion most closely associated with a principle being definitive, precise, and reliable under complex decision-making conditions is Robustness.

TOGAF describes robustness as the characteristic that ensures the principle provides clear guidance even when applied across a variety of scenarios, stakeholder viewpoints, and architectural complexities. A robust principle remains valid and usable regardless of changes in context or external pressures.

Where other criteria focus on different aspects-such as Stability (long-term applicability), Completeness (covering all necessary aspects of the principle's intent), and Consistency (avoiding conflict with other principles)-it is Robustness that specifically ensures a principle is sufficiently strong and precise to support consistent decisions in complex environments. This means a robust principle minimizes ambiguity, avoids subjective interpretation, and provides architects with a dependable rule that can be repeatedly applied across multiple architecture domains and transformation projects. By being robust, a principle becomes a dependable instrument for governance and architectural alignment at the enterprise level.
